Thread: Small Jobs for MyBB Developer

Snow - February 16, 2024, 11:07 am

I am looking to hire someone for bug fixes, optimizations, and possibly some very basic plugin development for MyBB. If you do well and things work out there is a possibility of more small jobs in the future.

Thank you if you have any questions please feel free to ask.

I'm up for it. I want to do something as a side gig aside from my day job where i do nothing but lift heavy boxes all day.

If you are still looking for someone for this please let me know! I would love to help. I will not lie, it has been a few years since I have worked directly with MyBB Plugin's, but years ago I have actually helped a few forums modify plugin's to meet their needs and make other fixes or custom plugins. I have plenty of free time in the evenings I am looking to fill with some work :)

How much are you paying ? More specifics about the jobs ?
