Thread: Night owls- what do y'all do all night?

M1L3NK0 - February 17, 2024, 12:08 am

I'm currently in the middle of changing my sleep schedule to do night shift at my new job. It's definitely going to translate into my sleep schedule on my days off as well. What do yall who stay up all night do when everyone else is sleeping?

Jamika - February 17, 2024, 12:09 am

I keep watching streamers and playing games , in some cases watch movie or two

Komodo - February 17, 2024, 12:17 am

I've worked night shift for a very long time.

Most of us with families just don't sleep much so we can flip our sleep schedules on our days off to see them.

Finish up some work, sometimes attempt to get a head start on tomorrows work. Play games, read stuff online try to learn something new, scroll through memes, no life HackForums. Sometimes watch a movie or something on YouTube.

Deany - February 17, 2024, 6:38 am

Stay up window shopping on Japanese websites Kappa

Jam1e - February 17, 2024, 7:04 am

I work, or watch documentaries online. IT sounds silly, but I enjoy that everyone else is asleep, and I'm up learning something new haha

Mald0r0r - February 17, 2024, 8:57 am

Listening to music and reading mostly

Yeah, I can definitely see myself getting used to flipping between sleep schedules too. Fiance and friends all work day shifts and I'm not trying to never see them again haha

Been trying to find a new game to sink some time into, I've been eyeing Terraria for a while now

I just looked up Terraria. It reminds me some games that I used to play on Nintendo or Super Nintendo. I can't remember which or what game but definitely just brought back a forgotten memory. Are those the type of games that you are into? I think Old School Runescape is the only old style graphics that I can still play.

It used to be a big competitor to Minecraft back in the day, hoping maybe I'll feel some of that magic I felt when I played MC for the first time when I was a kid haha

I like OSRS but I just can't get into the grind, rn the farthest I've gotten is finishing all F2P quests

Now with RuneLite, OSRS has never been easier. It comes as an option when you download RuneScape now, it'll ask you if you want to use their original launcher or the RuneLite. It's loaded with plugins that are allowed by Jagex. It'll guide you through quests, clues, skilling, minigames, it's such a major game changer I just started playing OSRS almost a month ago and I don't know if I would've been able to get into it as much as I have been if I didn't have RuneLite.

Projecting? No.

It's an easy conclusion to come to based on your posts - hence you've put me on your ignore list.
Lol.

Night time hours are the hours I'm most active. I've always been a person who prefers the night to the day time. I literally stay up the whole night... Whatever would be considered 3rd shift where you're at, are the hours I'm awake and getting busy on the computer.

i try to learn new things and keep up with the changes that occur every day.

Regulus - February 19, 2024, 6:43 am

Laying in bed watching movies or series, and play on my iPad mostly.

Monero-chan - February 21, 2024, 6:04 pm

Work on stuff or play games or watch something if I have nothing better to do

Dharkma - February 22, 2024, 1:42 pm

Scroll online or binge watch Rick and Morty.

Pepelita - February 23, 2024, 7:27 am

Watching movies and research random things
