We're going to my girl's family's house to celebrate her dad's birthday a bit earlier than it is. Will be good to have dinner & hang for a bit. Going to be doing some code for work over next few hours.

In the meantime, here are some AI-generated mushroom faeries who are protecting a timegate to a parallel universe using spore dust.

Nuffing at all fam just chilling watching livestreams :)

Cyam - February 18, 2024, 11:24 am

Just chilling, trying to keep the Sundays rest day for work.
Probably going to go ahead and watch a movie now!

It has been a lazy Sunday. Washed some clothes this morning, washed the jeep and I just got back from the grocery store. My next mission is to get off the computer and put away the laundry / do the dishes and start prepping dinner.

I was at a resort with family. We just got home this morning. It was a blast, I had never been to that one before and I'm already trying to plan a return trip and attempting to talk friends into coming with us next go. Best part was it was only like 25 minutes away so if I needed to run to the house I could, and the drive home today was so quick. Usually you go on vacation far away and the drive home is so dreadful.
