QOTD:

What's the one thing that you seem to constantly lose?

Everyone is gonna say their mind , right?

The television remote. I actually went online two years ago and purchased two more remotes because they kept getting lost. It's not me losing them, it's always my son, the other day I actually hid one of them because I hate when I go to watch television and I can't find a remote. So now I have one hidden that I refuse to tell anyone about.

My attention for sure. And my keys.

Jamika - February 20, 2024, 7:57 am

Cash and friends, sad i lose cash though

Files. I make a brilliant spreadsheet, don't need it for a month, and then I can't find it anywhere...

Thankfully the find command is pretty awesome.

My patience for these hoes.

InspectorGadget - February 20, 2024, 12:05 pm

The will to live, usually.

Kirk_sv - February 20, 2024, 2:29 pm

My money, one night I see my wallet and have a certain amount of money in it, and two days later, although I don't remember taking something from it, I always have less.

Domestos - February 20, 2024, 2:35 pm

I lose everything tbh lol

Not sure why I keep forgetting everything, starting with my phone, cold wallet, documents cash, wallet, backpack lol

Halo matches. My teammates are so bad I just want to hammer them off the map!

Monero-chan - February 21, 2024, 5:15 pm

I always seem to lose my will to live for some reason

Dharkma - February 22, 2024, 4:15 pm

Keep losing my phone lol.

Every time I go to open a garbage bag to replace the other, I somehow always manage to find myself fussing with the bottom portion of it from the roll, no matter what preparations are made. Don't even get me started on USB ports.
