

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: for website developer inside piracy streaming content

Reporter - February 21, 2024, 8:57 am

I am looking for a partner for my piracy movie streaming service.

The money generated from the website will be split fairly between us.

Current userbase is averaging around 1000 - 15,000 active users on a "bad base template".

What I can offer:

A functional source code for our current website that has most features you could ask for, but requires work on.

A userbase already in the thousands that is ready to be monetized A streaming library DB that is self hosted with all available content almost that exists

Constant work from me to update this DB and add new content.

Your work would be maintaining the site, updating it, patching exploits and adding new features such as OpenSubtitles API, Autoplay and any feature suggestions that people might suggest.

=====

Please note that I am not looking to pay someone to do this, I've gotten offers for around $1K to add all my features above and fix the website which is fairly cheap.

I am looking for a partner to help me on this adventure that will be there with me to see where we can take this project.

This of course does NOT mean guaranteed success even if we have a big base userbase, This website could make $5 a month or $5000 a month, there is no guarantees.