I've been following an indie metal band called "The High Ground" for some time now, and I've noticed that their following hasn't been increasing much. So, I thought I'd mention them here. Their album "Concrete" is a good starting point to see if their music resonates with you. Personally, I'm a fan, and perhaps you might enjoy their sound too. It would be great to see their support grow, as it's evident they pour their passion into their work. If you're into "The High Ground," you might also want to check out "White Reaper." They are getting me through a really hard point in my life right now. Both bands reminds me of having a smoke of that good good (if ya know what I mean) at the smoke spot with my older brother that passed on the 14th.

I'm sorry to hear about your brother.

I listen to bands with very little followings all the time. Sometimes you find the best music that way and it's a shame some of these bands never get the attention they deserve. Anyway, thanks for sharing!

Next time drop a video or link making it easier for users to check out the music! ?
