Thread: What phobia y'all got?

Deany - February 26, 2024, 1:46 pm

For me, tight spaces like caves ain't it. Especially underwater caves FRICK nope.

Popular - February 26, 2024, 1:56 pm

I got a phobia of fat bitches.

(Just kidding, I'll smash it anyways)

If she ain't 380, she ain't a lady.

Charlie Sheen - February 26, 2024, 2:12 pm

I have really bad misophonia

Which is basically an intense dislike of the sounds of people eating, chewing, breathing, or repetitive noises.

I snap at people all the time over it.

Oh man you would have loved the Army.

Nothing like eating, shitting, and sleeping with your closest 100 friends without escape.

Kalvaxas - February 26, 2024, 4:29 pm

For me it's fear of heights. An extreme fear of heights. Also, arachnophobia. Yeah, I'm one of those people. Though I hate to admit it.

It's called Fatphobia. Yep, it's a real thing! Hey, if their snatch doesn't smell, and they're not getting UTI's all the time - I say go for it! You never know what you'll miss out on if you don't go for it haha

630 - February 26, 2024, 5:55 pm

Spiders, horses and dogs. Don't go around them.

oRequiem - February 26, 2024, 8:56 pm

I have agoraphobia, claustrophobia, and arachnophobia.

WheeledCord - February 26, 2024, 11:32 pm

its weird because i dont got any irrational fears. or too many rational ones tbh.

I have the same, and the worst would be to get stuck in a pipe dug into the ground, a few meters down. I think there was even a movie about it once??

Yin Yang - February 28, 2024, 4:54 pm

losing the penjamin is my phobia

(Feb 28, 2024 05:54 PM)Yin Yang Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) losing the penjamin is my phobia

LOL I feel you on that!

tbh my phobia is of heights and the ocean.

Been on a cruise during a horrendous storm before and that was CRAZY, 100ft waves just WRECKING the Carnival cruise ship, tilting so much the pool water was going out of the pool, drinking falling, chairs flying out to sea, they cancelled a stop to an island and gave us all free alcohol, people were SHIT FACED, was not a good idea lol

Never been in an airplane and idk if I ever will.

Ultras - February 28, 2024, 5:05 pm

I'd argue it's not a phobia because I consider it very rational, but birds. Tiny ones, them dinosaur looking ones. They're rapid, they fly straight at you with no regard for their own wellbeing, and their wings creep me out. And anyone who has had the misfortune of witnessing two birds fight until death can back me up when I say ISIS ain't shit compared to birds. Fuck birds.

TheEmeraldSerpent - February 29, 2024, 7:31 am

I have Hydrophobia. Anytime I get wet I have super bad panic attacks and occasionally pass out.

Omniscient - February 29, 2024, 7:42 am

Phobia's are fears. I don't really have those. I have things that make me very angry though, like stupid people. But I think like some people who don't feel pain and think it's normal, I kind of don't have any deep seated fears. I know what fear is though, at least I can imagine it when I watch horror movies.

I've met plenty of people with actual phobias though like agoraphobia and anthropophobia. Where the persons just have panic attacks. It's crazy to me.

In crisis I don't panic, I tend to get calm, things become surreal for me. For example 9/11 when I was in NYC.

SoulZeh - February 29, 2024, 7:47 am

Clowns, I fucking hate them, creepy little freaks.

lambda96 - February 29, 2024, 12:51 pm

I'm scared that i'm gonna go schizo one day

I was agoraphobic and used this site to find meaning.

I'm a high school dropout. Drugs in the ceiling.

seagukkk - February 29, 2024, 7:42 pm

Bugs and snakes. Any bug between a small spider and a post apocalyptic huge cockroach will run me out of my body.

M1L3NK0 - February 29, 2024, 11:32 pm

Flying bugs for the most part. The initial spook is real but I'm not too afraid to get near them to kill them lol.

I've only felt claustrophobia for a small period, used to work an overnight shift for a 24hr smoke shop but the place was insanely tiny, called it the lill crack shack. The building's depth was pretty much the length of my sedan, and the length of the building was about 2-2.5 cars worth. On top of all the glass shelving and merchandise, there wasn't really much walking room in there.

Ennygmator - March 1, 2024, 10:34 am

Prolly car crashes?

If you are being driven, there is nothing you can do..

aphroditei - March 1, 2024, 1:23 pm

Untill recently I would have said none but I recently experienced a nightmare where I was in a coma for many many many years.

That now terrifies me.

Oh and the Ocean, that terifies me too, the darkness, the vastness, the helplessness, the creatures. Nope big fat nope.

Agoraphobia sucks man, I've left my house maybe 4 times max in 2023 and haven't yet in 2024. Mine's on the extreme side sadly.

anoncrab - March 2, 2024, 3:23 pm

Spiders, and heights. Anytime I'm too high up and look down, and I feel like I can fall off to my death, that's a nope for me.
