

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: [Earn Big from Zero to Hero. \[2 Money Make Methods\]](#)

PixelCode - February 27, 2024, 8:33 am

People who are wealthy make intelligent decisions, whereas those who are less fortunate tend to make hasty and impulsive choices, often influenced by those around them.

Consider yourself as someone with limited financial resources – what kind of people surround you? Are they also financially constrained or even more so?

How do wealthy individuals accumulate wealth? They understand the financial system. For instance, if you were to take a 10,000 euros loan with a 3% interest rate, you wouldn't necessarily need the money for immediate use. Instead, you could apply for the loan and invest the funds in the stock market, buying shares in various companies.

For example, investing in a regular deposit might yield a 3-5% annual interest, but with rising inflation, you could experience a loss – earning less than you have and with a 1% management fee, the returns would be minimal, potentially resulting in a negative outcome.

On the other hand, investing in shares at the bank could lead to a 50% growth, for instance, turning 5,000 euros into a more substantial sum.

Consider precisely what you want to do with your money and where you want it to go.

One method to accumulate wealth involves interpreting the financial system. Take a credit and use the funds to generate additional income – whether through an online business or investing in stocks from companies like Apple or Netflix. Thoroughly study the market to identify promising opportunities, considering the historical performance of relevant businesses in past years. By taking a credit and investing in stocks, you could expect a 5-10% interest, but the dividends from stocks can be much more substantial.

If this isn't your preferred approach, there's another method:

Method 2: You can take a loan to purchase an apartment not intended for renting but to open an Airbnb (for apartments offered for rent) specifically for one night, in a hotel-like manner.

How can you make more money from Airbnb?

If you rent it out, you'd receive 400-500 euros for a 100,000 euros property.

However, if you transform the Airbnb with a specific theme, for example, a "pleasure room," there's a city in France where finding such a space is challenging. It's a niche apartment, attracting individuals seeking unique experiences.

What is a pleasure room? You can include intimate items, erotic toys, setups inspired by Fifty Shades of Grey, and various objects leading to a relaxation niche, partnership, and more. This innovative concept allows you to target a broad audience, including those cheating on their partners, individuals living with their parents craving intimacy but unable to afford a long-term residence – providing you with a solid customer base.

You could have daily or bi-daily bookings. Choose the location wisely, create an Instagram page, a Facebook page, list it on booking platforms like Airbnb, and promote it extensively through local influencers for guaranteed success.

Embrace this opportunity; it's a simple process that doesn't require extensive cleaning. You can even have a woman to assist. There's no need to hand over the keys; implement a self-check-in system.

How do you ensure that nothing goes wrong? By managing all bookings, they handle all situations in case of any issues. Booking has excellent relationships with the police and authorities, ensuring you receive payments. This method serves as a way to escape the respective loan – you could be free in 5 or 20 years. With the remaining money, you can either buy another Airbnb or invest in the stock market, NFTs, or any desired venture. By the end of the years, you'll still have the property.

Iwannis - February 27, 2024, 4:05 pm
Smells scamme bro better one

PreceI025 - March 1, 2024, 4:49 am
it is not good idea bro

TGHB - April 22, 2024, 1:02 pm hummm it doesn't smell good throwaway622 - April 23, 2024, 12:03 am is this text written by AI?

Henry Chinaski - April 26, 2024, 3:57 am idk about this.....i dont think this will work in my specific region

Soulaimfsdan - May 1, 2024, 8:19 am hey i don't have enough bytes :/

doublesimpleman - May 4, 2024, 12:02 pm
This your idea of making money is not good