Really found it annoying that Omni doesn't even follow up his rules.

The rules clearly says we have 24 hours to attend a dispute before some action is taken. I have seen 100s of active scam reports and scammers active without any worry and cheering here on the forums.

I got just few hours delayed to make the delivery to the customer, I got banned.

As all my service terms clearly states that delivery takes less then 10 Hours but on some cases it might take upto 48 hours and the customer was impatient which is why it escalated to this big mess.

Why? Isn't it him having breakfast with his own rules. Like ban whoever he targets?

Closing this. He was tagged a dozen times in a previous dispute and he never responded once.
