what a game

Do you think it was RCE? I figured they just both got targeted and downloaded some crap.

Thanks for a good laugh. Who would have guessed it was an EA game. It's not like that company hasn't gone downhill for a very long time in terms of quality.

Was watching it live and was both mind blown as well as dying of laughter, especially at Hal's reaction to it. My man starts yelling that he's cheating, says he can't shoot (obviously since he has aimbot and will get DQed), his teammates are telling him to leave, but he goes on to not give a fuck and blows away the team that's challenging them?

I get it though. It happened the previous game already, he's not trying to have his team play duo in the game, and it's obvious it was going to keep happening and need something done about the whole finals anyway. In any case, pretty wild stuff. Looking to see what all they come out and say about it. A lot of people are pretty on edge atm, but understandably so.
