Thread: Crypto.com & Vechain?

I'm just wondering if there is anyone here that has done extensive research on Crypto.com (CRO) and VeChain (VET) and just curious how you guys see these guys in the cypto space in the years to come.

Reasons I think Crypto.com will do good is.

Great APP to buy Crypto. It has so many features and the UI is beautiful. Not buggy at all for me.

Is literally on every UFC fighters shirt/pants, on the UFC canvas and lots of coverage as a sponsor of the UFC.

They have Staking features. Also I like the design and rewards of their Visa Crypto Card.

Now I'm not really sure where VeChain sits as a L1 blockchain. It has big partners like Walmart China, BMA, and Sams Club.

If anyone has more insight and information/speculations to offer about these 2 crypto projects I'd like to hear it. ??

CRO did way too big mistakes and nail in their own coffin, otherwise it would be fucking over 1$ right now. They did change system requirements for their cards then entire volume died, no price action, no new investors.

Besides changing the card requirements. What nailed them to the coffin? I personally love their APP, cards, and all the staking, diamond, and more features.

Nothing tbh, but card was the %80-90 of reason why people pick CRO afaik they are not offering anything else like other exchange coins.

I might have to check it out because their crypto visa card seems pretty nice.

VeChain has those real-world assets (RWA) about to roll out. i think you'd prefer this one over the other that sounds like FTX. crypto.com bought an arena but not sure about the news anymore

Thanks for info, can you link me ? Seems like volume also up %200 already, any coin gets KRW on their market list for sure will do parabolic moves.
