Thread: \$YODAI - A Meme Coin Revolution on Solana x100

9tiraprimo - March 25, 2024, 1:58 am

I found a memecoin on sol with a really solid & fair launch , they locked their liq , team never sold and doing their best with marketing stuffs

In a market filled with serious projects and tight competition, $YODAI introduces a lighter, more engaging way to enjoy crypto trading and community participation. It's not just about investment; it's about being part of a movement that appreciates the fun side of the crypto world Personnaly gonna be holding this till 50x+ , initially got in at 20k marketcap right after launch and added more this dip at 100k and now it's almost 200k marketcap.

Just throw some ? and forget about it you won't regret later..

Ticker : $YODAI

CA : A1DAAfRPzDQEHSoZ4hCQmgr8vR1D1WnRL3uhs7r6i4Kk

MC: 180k

Risk : 8/10

I'm not built for this, selling this cr@p.

The creator doesn't know proper English, built a website with Canva and it still looks terrible. Shitcoins are not for me ?

This is not an opinion, you are giving a financial advice to buy 3 days old meme coin.

This project looks like complete trash. AI generated pictures, the website is a slideshow made in Canva (XD) and these dumbass slogans "we're building a community"...

You posted this not to create a meaningful discussion about this coin. You just want the marketcap to increase, so your shitty gambling "investment" pays off.

And the risk is fcking 10/10, don't lie.

it's important to clarify that the creator, who is not a native English speaker.
regarding language barriers and website design. they've taken steps to address these issues by hiring professionals for better communication and engaging a new website designer. With upcoming marketing plans and a listing on CoinGecko, i'm optimistic about the project's future no need to be a weak hand with $100 on a memecoin dude

My post intention is to share information and engage in community dialogue not giving financial advice to anyone and about the website design & ai generated pictures a new design team is now onboard to enhance visuals and messaging.
and finally everyone who joined the day i posted is up 400% since then

Many, I don't usually dabble in the SOL ecosystem or with memecoins, but the FOMO has been real this year.

Bonk is $1.8b mcap and ranked #64

Dogwifhat is $3.9b mcap and ranked #38

Book of Meme is worth over half a bil, Slerf and Wen are worth over $300m.

Solana has multiple memecoins easily eclipsing L1's and their entire ecosystems.

It's bonkers.

With that being said, rug frequency is at all time highs, if you're aping into these 1-2 day old coins you're going to get burned eventually.

Every cycle has users who get lucky on a random shitcoin who then instantly take on the persona of expert crypto trader extraordinaire.

Not saying that's OP, I don't have an opinion on OP, but it happens every time.
