Thread: Marketers?

What happened to the marketers' group on HF? I was interested in joining a while back but hesitated as I was new to HF. When I go to the group list pages it says "blank."

What happened?

It was a very low price for a while now, it wasn't surprising at all.

That being the case, should we expect its return?

Or...since it's been sold, can it be reborn into an entirely new group, new name, new agenda, etc?

I would assume from the graphics disappearing it's being revamped into a new group.

It's just a graphic man. The whole agenda / pledge to make Hackforums great again thing every new groups does has been nonsense since groups were created with just a few rare exceptions.

I can't wait to see what group he comes up with! I'm excited to see new things coming to HF.
Hopefully for the better ?
