Just need a refund. Seller has not delivered over 48hours of contract and his contact telegram deleted so no way he is answering anytime soon.

@bullPen Let's get this over with What currency you sending back?

Let's be honest.

He pulled a quick exit scam on you.

Use middleman next time, otherwise you will be scammed again and again. Its a fact.

btw. nobody will sell you tier1 unique bots. Its just another bait for people that dont know the realities.

I've spoken with BullPen on Telegram. His Telegram has not been deleted. He said that he's on a trip right now and has not logged in yet. He said he will be active in the next 4 hours or so.

I am just a messenger.

Doesn't look good but I really hope I am wrong and this gets resolved.

Thank you, Syndicate, for reaching out to me on Telegram; I genuinely appreciate it. Unfortunately, my Telegram account was deleted, and I don't have your username OP. That's why I immediately contacted you here. I asked you to message me on my new Telegram, but I never received any messages from you.

Additionally, there have been some delays in getting approval from Google Ads, despite my efforts to expedite the process. However, the screenshot below shows that it was eventually approved while I was away. I'm committed to fulfilling my end of the deal, and to compensate for the delay, I'm willing to run the campaign for a longer duration than originally agreed upon. Please kindly send me your file, and I will proceed with the campaign. Thank you for your understanding.

Thats so rare to see.

Thumbs up.

GOD-MODE - April 4, 2024, 10:33 pm

The time frame has made my file obsolete would have to go through the cryptic process again, which I do not have time for.

Great to see two level-headed individuals resolving a deal dispute.

Something you don't see too often.

Yep, unlucky for you.

His leet upgrade expired.

Seems like he ditched the account.

Most likely he is ready and waiting under another alias to find new victim.

Classic.

Use middleman or get scammed.
