Welcome to HF! You should check out the Help Docs to make yourself more familiar with the site.
Also consider upgrading your account, so you can unlock more features that regular users aren't privy to.

CORRECT! such as the ability to +10 Rep someone for posting HQ content. Or many other reasons. The Help Docs can be of great value if you want to be a high quality poster.

Did you mix up threads, Euaggelistes, when posting in the lounge threads :P?

Anyhow, welcome DarkTheater!

Glad to have you here. Find where ever your niche is, and get active! I am sure you will find what you need along the way. There are a lot of good people who are knowledgeable and share resources.

If you decide to dabble in the marketplace, read the safe trading guides, and use middlemen. Deal only on the forum.

There is a sticky at the top of the lounge for daily check-ins.

on the upgrade page I see L337 can give only +1, how do you get the ability to +10 rep?

Edit:

The forum was closed long before. I did not had enough time to manage it back then.

Beside reputation, what is the meaning of Credibility here ?

Bastille - April 7, 2024, 7:43 am

(Apr 7, 2024 07:23 AM)DarkTheater Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Beside reputation, what is the meaning of Credibility here ?

Credibility was known as b-rating and may be referred to this word in the Help Docs. You can give positive, neutral, or negative credibility after a deal happened with a HF contract. If you buy something and the seller provides you the product/service you can give him a positive cred, otherwise you give him a neg cred and you can also open a dispute (only if a contract exists for this deal).

Credibility is an indicator of trustworthy for sellers / buyers, however always be cautious when you deal, especially if big amounts are involved, in this case I recommend you to use a middle-man.

Welcome to HF

Welcome to HF

Thank you for the detailed explanation. I must say this is one unique feature that I never saw anywhere else.

So, if a seller has 100 Credibility it means he did 100 successful business deals here. Right?

Correct me if I am wrong.

Welcome to HF and I hope you enjoy your stay!

Seeing as how you already checked out the Help Docs, it seems you can just start looking around the forum, getting familiarized with everything, and start finding some things that interest you. Of course you should feel free to jump in with posting threads or replies to contribute and get more into the community as well ?

Yes that is 100 positively completed contracts.

Although, no matter the rating, I still recommend exercising the same amount of caution.

Toscan - April 7, 2024, 7:11 pm

I'd go with what you're passionate about first and go start browsing that area of the forum. Anything you can think of is probably on Hackforums.

Thank you DemonAsylum.

You seem to be one of the richest ones here, so much credibility and reputation.

I know it is going to take me some time but could you share some tips on how do you manage sales & support here on hf ?

You are right. One can never know if a person is trying to exit scam. I'll probably use MM for all my purchase. For sales, I'll accept MM. But, I am not yet sure what I can offer here in the marketplace.
