Traffic generation. Guess you can call me a traffic junky, as I live, dream, breath traffic generation. Constantly thinking of unique ways to build traffic.

I vape everyday! Both dry herb vape, and liquid vapes.

Cooooo! So what vape do you use for weed? I'm trying to cut out all tobacco from my life, as it literally makes me feel ill/negative whenever I smoke it now... well, I've kinda only just realized it properly lol. But yeah... I have this coming: <https://imgur.com/6cNCwcQ>

Is it harsh on your throat? I mean, that's why I've always smoked joints with tobacco, I guess it's the same as smoking raw weed right in a joint? But I guess the temp can affect that?

So for the dry herb vape, I'm using the Tyson2.0 Gpen. It cost around $80 but you get a 20% off your first purchase, so its around $60 out the door. I use this for ALL my flower. I used to smoke joints, but since I've gotten the dry herb vape I have no urge to want to smoke anymore. I'm actually upset that I hadn't started vaping a long time ago!

Other then the dry herb vape, I also vape thc liquids... i.e. Live resin, etc. I first tried these type of vapes around 5 years ago when they first started to get popular. But like with most new things, there were a lot of issues with the vapes that were coming out. There was a lot of negativity in the news in regards to them not being safe, and having pesticides, etc in them. So I stopped vaping all liquids at the time, and just went back to smoking flower. Then earlier this year, I decided since it had been about 5 years since all that was going on, I figured they had to have figured how to put them out safely by now. I remembered Stiizy as being one of the brands that was really big on having a clean, and safe product... So that was the first one I bought. I bought the Stiizy battery, and 2 different cartridges to go with it. And needless to say, the experience was good. So now I've bought a bunch of different disposable liquid vapes, as well as some that fit on a 510 battery.

Vaping is much more smooth then smoking. That was one of that main reasons I switched. But one of the bigger advantages is that flavor. When you vape using the dry herb vape, you get 100% of the flavor of the flower. It amazed me the difference in taste when I smoked a strain, compared to when I put it in the vape. Its definitely worth checking out. My next move is to get a desktop vape, as the dry herb vape that I have now is hand held one meant for discretion.

Dope! Well my Nectar Gold Dry Herb Vape arrives today... but no weed for a couple days, but can't wait to test! And duh, I literally was looking at disposable THC vape pens earlier (though I'm from the UK) these were £40 each, which is pretty expensive? I don't know? I may have to try them. But dude, you are talking about vaping THC right? Or just normal vapes? Lol idek XD

Hoping that it will be smoother, though, if I didn't run out of weed all the time and turn back to just tobacco, I would've not been a silly Brit and used tobacco with weed. Hopefully this dry herb vaping works nicely.

I'm talking about vaping thc. I dont ingest any tobacco. I used to smoke cigarettes, but was lucky enough to be able to quit using a tobacco vape.

So can I ask; what is the difference between vaping with a dry herb ting and a disposable vape? Like what one is better? And why?

Big difference. Dry herb vape, you're vaping a small amount of herb, and once the chamber is empty, you gotta empty and refill it if you wish to continue vaping. A disposable vape on the other hand, you can keep hitting it back to back to back, until your heart is content, as you're vaping a liquid. It's like the same stuff dabs are made from. Both give enjoyable highs. The dry herb vapes high typically lasts longer. While the disposable vape high is normally not aslong as if you were vaping actual flower. One cool thing to note, when you use the dry herb vape.. it doesnt matter how much you vape, the smell will not linger. Yes, you can smell it while you're vaping... but the smell doesnt stay around long. Its not like smoke, where the smell will stay in the room for hours sometimes days after you smoke.

Hardware bending os HACKING but.... not using software. like i can SHUNT mod almost ANY E-BIKE to break its speed limitations with a modification to the AMPERAGE limiting rails present in ESC controls, i would bridge those connections with a copper rod and LEADED Solder. that would DOUBLE the amps the battery can pull and send to the Bikes motor. effectively making it so you can just burn rubber ANYTIME you want lol. literally.... i almost die daily riding these things lol
