Thread: UK/AUS CALLER/SPAMMER LOOKING TO GET INVOLVED

JamesBanks - April 8, 2024, 7:24 pm

Hi guys, my names James.

Im primarily a caller, and spammer for a few country's but i mainly work aus and uk victims.

just wanted to see whats out there in the hacking scene as im very interested and driven to achieve my goals and it seems it would do me good to have some knowledge under my belt.

I have put in serious work as a caller and spammer for the past year and im ready to put in effort to understand how you guys operate and intern become one of you guys. Im not a dumb fuck and i pick things up quickly.

I want to look into getting my hands on remote access devices somehow with any means of traffic as well as looking deeper into the hacking scene.

As a top of the range SE i believe i would be able to cause some serious damage if i became a bit more knowledgeable or had someone more knowledgeable by my side. Im here to make serious money and always run clean business.

Does anyone know where i should start or how i can look further into and research more into hacking?

Thanks. im new here but ill check Dms and replies to see if anyone is keen to help me get on my feet, im a very valuable asset with the skills i can provide if your willing to speak to me or bring forward business opportunity's that need my set of skills we can make a killing.

For now im just doing the same old methods and work, im bored of it.

Thanks

Hmmm, spamming is an interesting topic. I'm assuming your referring to email spamming?
