

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Advice/tips for being able to actually use your brain on purpose?

AliCat - April 9, 2024, 6:57 am

So... imagine you're being hacked by the government, and they are literally reading your mind, and seeing your every feeling.

They are doing this either through something under one of your teeth (secretly inserted by a dentist doing a filling) ...

Or...

They have wireless technology that basically can measure your breath, and heart beat, and can somehow match everything you're thinking to how you're feeling.

So basically they can read your mind.

Imagine you have been in awareness they have this technology/science on you for 5 years.

You have been driven insane, but have become stronger, more knowledgeable, and better.

However;

You cannot use your mind and think on purpose.

You do not want to feel any negative thing, or think any negative thing, that truly comes from you.

??
??

They (the government, spectators) have positioned it so, they are the righteous ones for doing it to you. Torture. REAL torture.

And...

They have also brought things onto you, that you cannot confront, and would not feel comfortable confronting anyway, let alone with people in your mind.

And...

They are trying to, through whatever way they can, make you be responsible for THEIR evil, and THEIR lack of belief.

They have made you God. Or Joseph. But you can't see your children they supposedly brought to life from you wanking down a drain in the shower in a mental hospital.

What would you do?

How would you take power into your own hands, when no one in your life has ever been real, and has been lining you up to be killed, yet no one will tell you anything. Not a damn thing. Even though; if there were a reason to take my children, like God being real, and them needing to molest your children for peace, and money, and fame...

Let's say your a 'prophet' but not related to any religion. Let's say they made you use psalms, and nicknamed you Opsalma, because you brought evidently, the truth (for them) -- and they are still denying you reality, torturing you, not letting you know anything, dwelling, stressing, going crazy...

How would you use your mind? What would you do in reality? You can't go to the police, they have made it clear they will let you get raped, or killed.

What would you do?