Thread: Free Leet Account Upgrade Giveaway For Regular Members

Mooooookie - April 11, 2024, 6:23 pm

This Giveaway is for regular members, who are interested in upgrading to Leet. One of my goals while here at HF, is to help build activity on the forum, and one of the ways that I see that being possible is with more upgraded members. I was semi active when I wasn't upgraded, and after upgrading I've been on here everyday. There is just a lot more to do.

So if you're a regular member, and would like a free upgrade to Leet, comment below the reason why you feel you deserve the free upgrade, and what you will contribute to the forum. I will be giving out a few upgrades, I haven't decided in my head how many yet. For the best chance of being chosen, be genuine, no need to make up things because you think that's what I want to hear... as you don't know what I want to hear.

Good luck to everyone participating.

You keep on giving to the community, thank you! Good luck to everyone that enters the giveaway! I like it here, and have met some good people while here. Would love to see the place with more activity, if even just a little bit more. Every little bit counts. And I know the hell of a difference upgrading to Leet made for me. I'm sure there are some good regular members that could be a benefit to the community if they were upgraded, and maybe just doesn't have the means to upgrade at the moment. I'm here to give them a head start.

DemonAsylum - April 11, 2024, 9:43 pm

Really nice of you to do this! I look forward to hopefully seeing some high quality replies from those wanting to get upgraded.

First of all I'd like to thank you for welcoming me in my post and I would just like to say thank you for the opportunity to hopefully receive an upgrade could really use it. I would like to say that I am fully supporting and using this website to learn everything that I can about coding and programming as well as ethical hacking for the betterment of myself and my family, what I would contribute to the form is any information or help that I can as well as looking for criticism myself and things that I'm working on, I'm still pretty new so I can't say if this is even going to be a niche for me on this website but what I will say is I'm giving it a shot because it seems like something that I am very much interested in and would like to learn so I'm going to give it my all

You're a little too new for me to consider for an upgrade at the moment, but I would encourage you to keep posting and contributing to the forum, as that's not to say that it can't happen in the future, but it hasn't been 24 hours since you joined. ?

My account upgrade subscription expired a few days ago and I was still 1,500 bytes away from the total amount needed for 2 months of upgrade. Today, I randomly received a message from OP Mooooookie offering a free 6-month upgrade as a gift! :D LOL This was totally unexpected. The person is so genuine and really made my day! Thank you so much, I truly appreciate it. I was wondering how to get those extra 1,500 bytes, and stuff haha. I agree with the OP that as an

You're welcome bro! The best part about it was, you didn't ask for one. I'm looking for individuals who are active on the forum, part of the daily check-in cycle, users who will contribute to the forum.. not only replying to others posts, but creating new topics regularly. Consistency. Looking for individuals who are consistent with what they bring to the forum. Those are some of the things I look for when considering someone. I'm actively looking out for individuals daily.

You've only been here since 4th of May, and already at 44% warning. That's not really a good look. My advice would be to take a moment to go thru the Help Docs, and become familiar with the rules of conduct on the site. The way you carry yourself on the site, is what will determine whether I upgrade an account or not.

You're welcome, but you're still too new to be considered for an upgrade. There are a lot of variables, that I consider before deciding to upgrade someone. Your past activity on the site is one of those variables. Engage in conversation on threads, start your own threads.. show that you really plan on being around here for some time. :]

As an unupgraded member, I find myself being restricted on the many interesting and cool things HF has to offer. However even with my "normal" status, I try to be as active and social as possible! Although the threads I do post have not been as "informative" yet per se, I would like to believe the posts and threads I do make bring good conversation to the forum and allow folks to share their minds and give great opinions, sometimes with a laugh and a smile. I have a long ways to go on HF and lots to learn, but so far my time spent on HF has been wonderful, and I am looking to contribute much more in the future regardless of whether I am chosen for a l33t upgrade or not. Thank you for the opportunity and good luck to all of the folks who are also participating in the chance to become a bigger part in something great :)

I'd like to be upgraded to leet permanently. (I've only tasted the trial of it.) I've been lurking for awhile but only just recently gotten active again. I'm planning on launching a product soon and that would help allow me to apply for UBER and then VENDOR next.

I don't have a problem adding you to the list of users being considered, but I'm assuming you've used the guide that you're advertising in your Signature, have you considered upgrading to Permanent Leet with the $3,000 a month you're making? Or have you not actually used the guide? As I said, No issue adding you to the list of users to be considered, but this thread was designed for users who aren't in a position financially to upgrade themselves. Would be awesome if you could clarify that for me.

Thanks for the clarification, but I won't be able to consider you for an upgrade, as you're actively earning money, and making a sound choice to not use it toward an upgrade, which is your decision, and I respect that decision. As I mentioned in my previous reply, this thread was more designed for users who want to contribute to the community in one way or another, and want to be upgraded, but just aren't in the financial situation to where they can upgrade at the moment.

Thanks for doing this.

I have been active on this forum on and off. I have coding and design skills that I would like to present and contribute with. But my regular member status prevents me from participating in certain forums of discussion.

If given the opportunity. I would love to be an active contributing member of this community.

Thank you for organizing this giveaway! I have extensive knowledge in technology and am eager to assist new members with their questions. I believe my experience can be a valuable resource for those who are just starting out or need guidance. Additionally, I plan to create and share helpful tutorials on the forum, which will cover a range of topics and provide step-by-step instructions to simplify complex concepts. My goal is to contribute positively to the community by sharing my expertise and ensuring that everyone feels supported and empowered to expand their tech skills. I'm excited about the opportunity to engage with fellow members and help foster a collaborative and educational environment.

Welcome to the forum.

I appreciate you taking the time to leave a comment on the thread. Your account is pretty new, so to be considered for an upgrade, you can either get some more time under your belt and I will consider it in due time.. or after seeing some of those tutorials you mentioned putting together, I believe that would be enough to convince me that you're serious.

Many come on here, and ask to be upgraded, and state their reasons why they want to be upgraded.. but then when asked to do something simple like check in for 7 days straight, they don't follow thru. I sometimes ask people to complete these small tasks, to show that they're serious about wanting to be around on the forum, and aren't just asking for an upgrade because they're curious to see what it's like, and then disappear after that.

So yeah, feel free to put together a couple of those tutorials, or other forms of meaningful engagement on the forum, and I will consider you for an upgrade.

So if you're a regular member, and would like a free upgrade to Leet, comment below the reason

I see that you have been pretty active on the forum, create a few meaningful threads on the forum over the next few days, and check into our Daily Check-In thread daily, and I will upgrade your account for you. ?

While I appreciate your participation in the thread, you've only been a member here for 3 days..

which isn't enough time for me to get a good evaluation of what you bring to the community. As well as you have a 20% warning - I don't upgrade users who have active warnings. Hey - Thanks for your interest in the upgrade giveaway. While you meet the requirements for most of the things I check for, there are still a couple things that you're lacking to be considered, and that is contributing some meaningful threads to the community. It doesn't matter which topics you create under, but I liked to see users sharing their ideas and knowledge with the community. The more users create threads, the more the activity that gets generated on the forum. I'm sure the fellas would love to respond to whatever is on your mind. Second would be, converse in a variety of different subjects. A lot of your replies are under member contests, adult content management and check-ins, would love to see what other topics interest you. Whenever you feel you have fulfilled these requirements, feel free to comment again on the thread and tag me, and I will be glad to evaluate it and upgrade you if all looks good.

I might be too new here for you to consider - but I've been checking out the different aspects of the site (and mostly keep just falling into the trap of playing the Hack Game in my other browser tab lol) and think I'll be sticking around for some considerable time. I'm not old (or necessarily that wise either) but I'm experienced enough in life to assist other members here with day to day struggles they might be confronted with and provide honest, impartial advice.

My day job actively involves electronic warfare and whilst some of the knowledge I have to impart might not be practically useful for 95% of people here, I have plans to make some fun and entertaining threads, tutorials, and maybe even a novel marketplace offering in due time.

You're right, you are a little too new for me to consider for an upgrade, as you haven't been here for even 30 days, but you have been reasonably active since you've joined, which is always commendable. If you would like to be considered for an upgrade, stick around the forum for some time, check back in on this thread at the 30 day mark, and I will evaluate and reconsider you. For the highest chance of consideration, I would recommend creating something threads, as I see you haven't created on yet. Doesn't matter which section, choose whatever catches your interests.

And yes, Hack Game is totally addicting. I play it everyday, even if only for a little bit. I'm focused, and going for the 250k! That's what's needed to win the award. You aiming for it too?

Wow, it's so nice of you Mr. Mooooookie.

I joined HF in 2020 but was not an active user due to personal affairs and the Global Effect (CORONA).

From now on, I have made up my mind, set off some things, and decided to be an active user of HF.

I am a Software Engineer, I registered the HF for some reason, here I want to learn and give services to others.

I want to contribute my knowledge to others, help someone if they need it, and also take knowledge from others. Therefore, if you give me the chance to share my knowledge with others and also with mine, a free upgrade will be my big support and opportunity.

Well doing my best to become a part of this forum. As of now can't upgrade by myself. I have to take other expenses first.

I have tried to save the bytes to upgrade as well but I end up spending them all on BlackJack

It would feel nice to be able to quick-love a post or comment from time to time.

And yea if that is not good enough I could buy you a redbull when you come by my place

Thanks for taking your time to reply to my Free Account Upgrade Thread. While you meet the requirements for account age, you lack enough account history for me to consider you for an upgrade. Take some time to create some thoughtful new threads, and participate a little more in some of the discussions on the forum, so I can get a better outlook on what type of member you will be.

Feel free to get your post and thread count up, and come back in 2 weeks and I will happily reconsider my decision. This month is OctoberFest, perfect time for you to increase your post and thread count, while also winning an Award.

Hi there,

Well I wouldn't say that I deserve it more than other users that are on here daily but I would like to upgrade due to seeing so many of the active members are L33t and seems to be genuinely almost on here every time of the day as they are motivated by the new award which has peaked by interest and I am shooting for the goal myself. I do know that I've not made a lot of threads but I am currently thinking up of some as we speak just trying to avoid any duplicates rather have interesting conversations with other individuals on here and see other peoples opinions on things. The upgrade does peak my interest as I've heard that you do get increased rates of bytes that you can use for gambling which on it's own seems interesting as well as being able to utilize the additional benefits on the forums such as custom avatar, signatures and seeing what other things are available for those that are upgrade. I have been trying my best to post as much as possible and not be a mindless person posting just to post rather thoughtful conversations about random things on here. I appreciate you giving me this chance If I get that's amazing hey at least I tried and it doesn't hurt. Thanks.

Hey everyone,

I recently joined the forum a few weeks ago, and I've already learned a lot from the community. I'm eager to become more involved and contribute in meaningful ways. Upgrading to Leet would allow me to engage more deeply with the community, participate in exclusive discussions, and build stronger connections with other members. Here, I want to learn and give services to others, helping the forum thrive.

One of my main goals is to actively participate by helping members with any challenges they face, sharing tips, and contributing to discussions that make the forum more engaging. I believe that with the upgrade, I'll be able to contribute even more by offering valuable insights and being more present in the forum.

Thanks for the opportunity, and good luck to everyone!

My main areas of interests revolve around social media, automation, as well as traffic generation. They say one should make themselves an expertise at atleast one thing in life, and I can happily say that I'm an expert when it comes to building traffic. I can generate traffic for pretty much any niche, and can generate it in volumes that surpass what most people can do by themselves. And all the traffic is high quality, converting traffic, which is powerful skill in my opinion. Take one thing in life, and master it.

Thanks for taking the time to check out my thread, and participate in my Giveaway.. it's much appreciated. Your application was well written and nicely worded. The only thing that's preventing my from upgrading you, is that your account is too new and you don't have enough history for me to get an accurate depiction of you as a member. I tend to upgrade users only iif they've been here for 30-60 days. On top of the length of time you've been here, I also would need to see some meaningful contributions to the forum, as it would be nice to see some new threads from you, and more posts. Your current thread count is 0, and your post count is 7. Not much for base my decision on. Kindly put in a little more work on the forum, and come back after 30 days + a little more forum activity, and I will be glad to reconsider my decision.

(Oct 14, 2024 02:55 PM)Eran Wrote: [\[CITE\] Moookie](#) this user deserves an upgrade for sure. :) Yes, I agree. He's very well spoken, and sounds like he has all his ducks in a row. I liked reading what he had to say. The only thing that is preventing my from upgrading him, is that his account is pretty new and it lacks much activity on it. He has 0 threads created, and only 7 posts. That's unfortunately not enough data for me to get an accurate depiction of him as a whole. I like to see 30-60 days minimum of membership, and some good threads and post replies. Just gave him some instructions to create some new threads, and reply to some more posts to build up his activity, and to come back and I will be glad to reconsider his application.

I'm sure you can understand why I don't want to upgrade new accounts that lack much activity. But hell yeah, that was one bad ass application.. and I actually look forward to upgrading him. ?

My main areas of interests revolve around social media, automation, as well as traffic generation. They say one should make themselves an expertise at atleast one thing in life, and I can happily say that I'm an expert when it comes to building traffic. I can generate traffic for pretty much any niche, and can generate it in volumes that surpass what most people can do by themselves. And all the traffic is high quality, converting traffic, which is powerful skill in my opinion. Take one thing in life, and master it.

Well said!

I will definitely be learning from you a bunch then. Your niche is interesting and useful in almost anything. I think I have checking in for 4 or 5 days now. So 2 or 3 days away from the 7 day mark.

I am looking forward to learn some of your tips and tricks haha

Thanks for taking the time to check out my thread, and participate in my Giveaway.. it's much appreciated. Your application was well written and nicely worded. The only thing that's preventing my from upgrading you, is that your account is too new and you don't have enough history for me to get an accurate depiction of you as a member. I tend to upgrade users only iif they've been here for 30-60 days. On top of the length of time you've been here, I also would need to see some meaningful contributions to the forum, as it would be nice to see some new threads from you, and more posts. Your current thread count is 0, and your post count is 7. Not much for base my decision on. Kindly put in a little more work on the forum, and come back after 30 days + a little more forum activity, and I will be glad to reconsider my decision.

Yes, I agree. He's very well spoken, and sounds like he has all his ducks in a row. I liked reading what he had to say. The only thing that is preventing my from upgrading him, is that his account is pretty new and it lacks much activity on it. He has 0 threads created, and only 7 posts. That's unfortunately not enough data for me to get an accurate depiction of him as a whole. I like to see 30-60 days minimum of membership, and some good threads and post replies. Just gave him some instructions to create some new threads, and reply to some more posts to build up his activity, and to come back and I will be glad to reconsider his application.

I'm sure you can understand why I don't want to upgrade new accounts that lack much activity. But hell yeah, that was one bad ass application.. and I actually look forward to upgrading him. ?

Thank you so much Moookie, but after giving it some thought, I've decided to upgrade my account to Leet by paying the $30 (crypto) myself. I understand that maintaining a site like this requires resources, and I want to contribute to keeping the forum running smoothly for all of us.

I believe it's a worthwhile investment to become more involved and support a platform that benefits so many people. But first, I need to go through all the Rules — it looks like there are quite a few pages to read! ? Best Regards!

Niceeee! That's what's up.. always nice to see a member upgrade their account, it shows they're serious about wanting to be an active member on the site. You've come to the right place. We're glad to have you.

I have been seeing your posts/threads around the Community, so I can vouch that yes you've been active. Your account is a little newer then I like them when choosing someone to upgrade, but I'm willing to overlook your signup date on this occasion. Check in for 7 days straight to the Daily Check-In thread, and I will upgrade your to Leet.

Now I completed your task with some margin aswell?

While you meet the requirements for account age, you lack enough account history for me to consider you for an upgrade. Take some time to create some thoughtful new threads, and participate a little more in some of the discussions on the forum, so I can get a better outlook on what type of member you will be.

Feel free to get your post and thread count up, and come back in 2 weeks and I will happily reconsider my decision. This month is OctoberFest, perfect time for you to increase your post and thread count, while also winning an Award.

Hey, Mooooookie! Increased my post/threads count, so I'm back to see if I qualify. Thank you!

forum, and one of the ways that I see that being possible is with more upgraded members. I was semi active when I wasn't upgraded, and after upgrading I've been on here everyday. There is just a lot more to do.

So if you're a regular member, and would like a free upgrade to Leet, comment below the reason why you feel you deserve the free upgrade, and what you will contribute to the forum. I will be giving out a few upgrades, I haven't decided in my head how many yet. For the best chance of being chosen, be genuine, no need to make up things because you think that's what I want to hear... as you don't know what I want to hear.

Good luck to everyone participating.

Hello Mooooookie i was exploring here on HackForums and this was one of the topics that i directly stucked in.

I want to learn more and being presented with new things because i spent a lot time here and i dont have permissions.I tried to do by myself the upgrade but its very hard growing without a hand.

I will continue being everyday here and giving my help.

Thank you for considering this ??

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP

(Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

Spending money on the forum isn't necessary to partake in the giveaway, as it's not expected that everyone has the extra funds to be able to do so. But to be considered for an upgrade, you do have to make some meaningful contributions to the forum in form of new threads and quality post replies to show that you're serious and not just looking to be upgraded just for the sake of being upgraded.

Hey @Mooooookie , when are u going to host such contest again ?? would love to participate for a chance to win :))

mentaya - February 3, 2026, 9:31 pm

I would really love to upgrade my membership, even though I am still very new here. If I am given the opportunity to receive a free upgrade, I promise to be active and contribute positively to the forum.

This forum has so much valuable knowledge that I can learn from, and I believe there are many new things here that will help me grow. I am excited to participate, share, and support the community as much as I can.

Thank you for considering me.

As the other user suggested, just be active on the forum.. and in return, I have no problem upgrading you to Leet. Active can be simple as making 3 - 5 post replies on the forum for 2 weeks. You can achieve this by replying to posts in the lounge, or any other section of the forum that peaks your interest(should be outside of the marketplace, and members contests to be considered).

Feel free to tag me after you've felt you've made some meaningful contributions, and I will review them.. if suitable, then I will upgrade your account for you.

This contest is indefinite, as long as the thread is open.. then users are eligible. I see you've managed to get upgraded already, so congratulations on the upgrade.

I'm currently a regular member, but I've been actively contributing through IT-related guides and discussions, mainly around Windows troubleshooting and networking. I enjoy sharing practical knowledge and staying involved in meaningful conversations.

Upgrading to Leet would allow me to participate more fully, especially in areas where I can offer legitimate IT-related services. That would help me turn my skills into a proper income source while also contributing value to the forum and helping other members.

I'm committed to staying active long-term and continuing to post useful, experience-based content. This upgrade would simply give me the tools to do more of what I'm already trying to do here.

Thanks for hosting the giveaway, and good luck to everyone participating.
