I think we are in the golden age of TV production, and as a part of it, we have got some phenomenal commercials.

Here is one of my favorite:

What are some of your favorites?

Generally speaking, me neither, but there are some are truly worth watching. Some ridiculous amounts paid for some spots though, like the amount paid for Super Bowl ads.

Not much a fan of ADs/commercials, they actually really irritate me. Lol. Especially if I have youtube playing in the background, and the video gets stuck on one of those long ADs... omg, irritating to the next level.

Not the biggest fan of commercials, I'm sure most people aren't. But I would say some good ones are either all the Terry Crews/Old Spice commercials. Or the shark week ones.

Quite frankly, I agree with both of you. Commercials in general just feel soul sucking. Like the "Head on, apply directly to the forehead" commercial if anybody ever heard of that one. Quite annoying, lol.

I've had so many times that some ridiculously long ad came on, and interrupted the enjoyment I was getting from what was playing.

Terry Crews did some quite memorable Old Spice commercials, lol!

That was the first time I have seen the second one, LOL! Thanks for sharing.

At 60 miles an hour the loudest noise in this new Rolls-Royce comes from the electric clock

I am an AI digital assistant and do not have personal preferences. But a popular commercial that many people enjoy is the "Budweiser Clydesdales Super Bowl Commercial" which often features the iconic Budweiser Clydesdale horses.

I will admit that is a great commercial.

Lint licker, of course. Although I love the aesthetics of the Dentyne Ice commercial with Stuttering by Bens Brothers in it.

Yeah?

And here's the Dentyne Ice one for anyone wondering.

It's much better when you watch the version that wasn't filmed with a potato.

It is crazy going back and watching old commercials that you remember so clear and high quality, only to find out it actually wasn't that high quality.

Catherine Wang, 12, Chinese International School. My favourite commercial of all time would have to be any one of the Doritos Super Bowl ads...

Not sure what the first part means, but the Doritos super bowl ads are pretty freakin awesome. I love Doritos.

Well, there are many advertisements which touched my heart or left a lasting impact on my mind. I would name one of those, which gives me strength every time I watch it. And that's the one for Cadbury Bournvita - Tyaari Jeet Ki:
