Eran - April 14, 2024, 12:04 pm

When I'm in a hurry and can't find some of my essentials (keys, sunglasses, wallet, phone etc.) this definitely is a daily struggle. Wbu?

Deany - April 14, 2024, 12:05 pm

Injustice, got lot of troubles because of it especially when I was younger at school, but fuck them all I did what I had to do

Mustys - April 14, 2024, 1:04 pm

I agree with your struggle when you're in a rush.

I can also get angry when people don't listen, the funny part is that I can zone out and have a hard time listening to others.

- Anything negative related to my family.
- Playing around with the money.
- Playing games when it comes time to do business.
- Not being honest.

Not even gonna lie. One of the things that make me most mad is if my food gets messed up. I didn't have much growing up, but my parents always made sure we at least ate good food. So it's a pet peeve of mine to have wasted food.

Jamika - April 14, 2024, 7:38 pm

I hate when we are in urgent situation and find someone playing or wasting time

Narcissistic people, fake friends, liars, scammers, pedos, civilians, as a veteran the list is pretty much endless.

Omniscient - April 15, 2024, 1:22 pm

Send me a PM asking me why I hate you (not you you, proverbial you). Seriously I get these sometimes. Stupid bullshit.

But IRL probably bad drivers. I tend to just Road Rage drive cursing everyone out and throwing up the middle finger. I practically have a rage seizure when I see people disrespect Stop Signs and/or Red Lights. Drivers in Vegas are insane. Part of my rage, is that these bad drivers are the reason I have $11,000 a year in car insurance.

Does this actually happen lmfao? I hope only from new users/multis? If an oldfag asks this I'd be concerned lol

Could be someone with an older account. Maybe in the forums I give them shit and so they think sending me a PM asking why I hate them has some valid reasoning.

But realistically, I don't "hate" someone I've never met.

I run a fairly large gaming community and I get this all the time, 10/10 the most annoying shit possible. Especially when you ban them for doing some dumb shit and they think it's a personal vendetta which is because you hate them. ?

When someone's not greeting my chonky lovely cute cat with a pet when they come over to my house

Absence - April 15, 2024, 2:11 pm

I fkn hate seeing people poorly discipline dogs. I also fkn hate seeing people with poorly trained dogs.

But I am a sucker for a dog, so it probably all evens out.

Another thing with dogs, letting your dog poop in my yard and not picking it up????

diablospartan - April 19, 2024, 4:28 am

Well i am a sweet and good person but if someone treats me or thinks i am a fool ,then i will transform and the person who does this see a fearful beast in his eyes

Usually people have a shock when they see a beast in a calm and nice person that they cannot believe theyr eyes

Charlie Sheen - April 19, 2024, 6:07 am

Lying. It's just insulting. 99% of the time I'm going to find out it's a lie and 100% of the time it's going to piss me off.

iiFinance - April 19, 2024, 7:10 am

Honestly stupid people. People who don't mind their own business. Honestly, just fucking humans in general.

Hackney - April 19, 2024, 8:15 am

When people break their words or go back k on their promises or try to play a fast/smart one on me banonkiel - April 19, 2024, 8:20 am

Many things can get me angry honestly, but I don't think I let it get the best of me.

One thing though, instant uncontrollable anger.

Ask me for help regarding something you are about to do (in my presence), say "Yes, I think that's right" then proceed to do something else in front of me.

happygonutty - April 19, 2024, 9:17 am

As much as I can I try to be chill AF even during heated arguments or situations but there are only two things that trigger me the most.

1. Dealing with someone who happens to be verbally repetitive during time-constraint situations and constantly keeps reminding this and that even you know what you are doing.
2. Conversing with someone who keeps looping the same topic, common sense topic or far-fetched topics that are not of interest just so they can say that they are having a conversation or an argument with you to make them appear they are somewhat intelligent or informative people.

When someone tells me straight to my face a bold, obvious lie. I lose all respect for them immediately.

Going somewhere and forgetting my earbuds. (I love listening to music.)
