Undead - April 19, 2024, 1:02 am

Love the group name and the userbar looks epic as well. Here's my application, thanks for considering.

- Tell us about yourself?

My background is in IT Support having worked for several companies over the years and accumulating a decent amount of experience. Recently, I've become more interested in the Cybersecurity side of things and have been studying that intensely. I've been a active member of HF for a few years now and have enjoyed interacting with many members on here.

- What are your skills?

My main skills are in troubleshooting hardware and software issues. However, over the years I've dabbled in many things from website development especially Wordpress to many AI software and Photoshop on the Graphics side of things.

- What can you bring to the group?

I'm pretty much active on a daily basis so along with the skills and knowledge I bring, I'm willing to help out others members in any way I can. I'm a helpful person by nature and enjoy sharing whatever experience or knowledge I have as well as learning new skills.

- What are some of your hobbies?

My main hobbies are gaming and reading as well experimenting with new AI software especially of the grey/dark variety.

- Why you would like to join?

The Fallen group members that I've seen posting around the forum are HQ. So, I'm looking to join this great group that seems active and with HQ members. I'd love to get to know the other members of the group, make new connections, exchange skills and knowledge.

- Do you Specialize in anything?

I wouldn't say that I specialize in anything specific but I'm a quick learner with good research skills. I've used a wide range of software and tools over the years so I have a solid foundation that helps me to quickly acquire new skills. I'm willing to put in the time and effort it takes to help the group with any projects.

slezer - April 19, 2024, 5:55 am

Tell us about yourself

As you probably know, my name is slezer. I have been around "com" since 2020 and I used to spread silent miners and other malwares back in the day. Nowadays I own a no rules hosting service and teach people how to do malware. I also sell crypts on the side.

What are your skills?

I consider myself a businessman, marketing is something I do very well and I also know SEO. I also have decent linux sysadmin skills. I can build websites and web panels in PHP, JS, HTML & CSS or Wordpress and/or WHMCS.

I also have great speech skills and in turn social engineering is something I excel in.

I also love writing and I have wrote many guides related to malware in the past, it's something I love doing.

I think it's also worth mentioning that I have decent leadership skills.

What can you bring to the group?

I'll help the group with whatever projects you guys are leading and whatever you guys may be needing.

What are some of your hobbies?

Business. Business. Business.

Why you would like to join?

I have some time on my hands and I figured it could be fun to work on some projects with other members. I'm also sure I'll meet some future partners upon joining.

Do you Specialize in anything?

I've already mentioned the skills and things I specialize in.

Chapman - April 19, 2024, 6:28 am

Looks very HQ group, i will apply once i will have more than 250 posts.

I wouldn't be gaining anything from social engineering my way into this group, and if I was to gain something it probably wouldn't be worth my time.

Actually that was the plan initially, but think of the darkness as Alice' rabbit hole instead

This group is a group of creative thinkers who actually do something.
We share ideas, create new products and keep HF as active as we can.

In the darkness, we ask ourselves the questions that change our lives in the light.

Burger - April 19, 2024, 4:53 pm

- Tell us about yourself?

I am a computer geek, been since I was just a small fella. I have been apart of many communities in the past even HackForums back in the day. I love Cyber Security and am apart of the IT world in my real life job, I know alot about everything and am always up for learning / teaching. Since I work in IT, my life pretty much revolves around it still as an Adult and I love to share my stories and passion with just about anyone who will listen to me.

- What are your skills?

Web Developing (HTML/CSS/PHP), Tons of Linux Knowledge & Fluent in most distros, Network Admin / Systems Admin, Axis Certified, CompTIA Network+ & Security+ Certified. I am a Blackhat turned Whitehat so I know a decent amount about everything.

- What can you bring to the group?

Good times, great knowledge & a friendly guy who everyone will get along with! I want to help out as much as I can with anything as I do that IRL. Might be able to offer some discounted hosting for Team members in the future :)

- What are some of your hobbies?

4/20 Friendly, I love camping / hiking and backpacking, Swimming & being on a boat! Fishing is my main hobby and also I LOVE to get my Jeep in the mud and go on trails or mudding. Computers are my home hobbie that Ive always been involved with. Love messing with stuff and seeing how it works.

- Why you would like to join?

I love Agent and his vibes, would like to expand my networking within HF and become a mentor for some folks new to this shit!

Dirty - April 22, 2024, 10:58 am

Tell us about yourself?

I have been around the community mostly for the last year, mainly partaking in the tech section of the community. Currently running my own start-up which recently has gotten VC investments.

What are your skills?

Most of my experience is in writing software, but these days I'm finding myself more becoming a salesperson/manager due to the aforementioned start-up. But as an engineer I'm specialized in distributed systems and specifically mostly in Databases. But also know my way around Docker, Kubernetes, and handful of different programming languages.

What can you bring to the group?

Due to my experience in engineering, I can mostly bring a lot of experience as a developer, and act as a mentor for newer people in that field who might want to expand their skills/knowledge, even for some of the more experienced members since we all have our own specialization, and I would expect to be able to absorb a lot of knowledge myself from the people in the group.

What are some of your hobbies?

Outside of coding I spend all of my time being physically active, about 20 years ago I started swimming, which for now I don't do anymore but I go to the gym often and do bouldering about 2-3 times a week and have recently (about a month) picked up kickboxing aswell.

Why you would like to join?

I think Fallen is a solid group with very experienced and knowledge people in all sorts of fields, and I would love to take part and be part of this community.

SpiritualDose - April 23, 2024, 9:17 pm

Tell us about yourself?

I'm SpiritualDose, I'm a 25 year old single father in long-term recovery from drugs and alcohol. At my core, I'm a disciplined creature of habit. My days are structured the same way for the most part, however I manage and oversee 12 sober living houses so as structured as my days may be, there is always room for chaos. This of course helps keep me sober day in and day out from helping others and also watching people drift away and reminding me to stay connected. I'm a creative, and am always looking for innovative ways to generate income.

- What are your skills?

I have a lot of abilities, from an amateur level of graphic design, video editing, social media marketing, to administrative duties from my job in real life working with drug treatment centers, drug courts, and managing 190 residential beds across multiple houses. I think my best assets are my abilities to bridge the gap of creative ideas to real solutions.

I'm a great public speaker, have other physical skills from handyman work to being a mechanic for Toyota for quite some time.

- What can you bring to the group?

as mentioned above, I am big on helping others, and finding meaningful solutions to problems and any creative ideas. I'm always ready to get involved in a project and see it through. Aside from ideas, and monetization guides, I believe I can bring some real positivity across the board as well as laughs.

- What are some of your hobbies?

#1, I'm huge on the gym and physical wellness. I will be entering a qualifying competition event for bodybuilding in the early months of 2025. Some of my other hobbies include watching sports, I'm a huge hockey, soccer and football fan. (Which is why my percentages are so high in my sports signal service and on AltBets as a tipster)

I really enjoy drawing and tattooing, spending time with my son doing whatever he wants to do.

- Why you would like to join?

I've never put myself out here much on HF, I would like to represent a group and build a fellowship among other members as well as give a great first impression of this group to new members on HF. Thank you for reading and considering me!

SHADE™ - April 29, 2024, 3:25 pm

What are your skills?

I possess a diverse range of technical skills in cyber security, including proficiency in tools such as Wireshark, Metasploit, NMAP, Nessus Scanner, and others. Additionally, I am well-versed in governance, risk, and compliance (GRC) processes, with knowledge spanning various standards and regulations such as SOX, PCI, ISO27001, HIPAA, GDPR, FISMA, NIST, and CCPA. My certifications, including EC-Council Certified Ethical Hacker (CEH), CompTIA Security+, and NexGenT Cyber Security Associate (NCSA), further validate my expertise in the field.

What can you bring to the group?

I can bring a wealth of knowledge and experience in cyber security, intelligence, and GRC processes to the group. With a background in systems administration, IT administration, technical support, and auditing, I offer a multifaceted perspective that can contribute to various aspects of the group's activities. My skills in identifying and analyzing threats, implementing security policies, and managing vulnerabilities make me a valuable asset for any hacking group aiming to enhance its capabilities and effectiveness.

What are some of your hobbies?

In my free time, I enjoy engaging in hacking challenges and staying active in professional associations such as Cyber Warrior Network and IAPP. I find fulfillment in continuous learning and professional development, whether through participating in online hacking challenges or networking with other cyber security professionals. Additionally, I have a passion for exploring new technologies and staying updated on industry trends, which aligns well with the dynamic nature of hacking activities.

Why would you like to join?

I am enthusiastic about joining Fallen because I believe it presents an opportunity to collaborate with like-minded individuals who share a passion for cyber security and hacking. I am drawn to the prospect of working within a group that values innovation, creativity, and ethical hacking practices. By joining Fallen, I hope to contribute my expertise, learn from others, and collectively advance our skills and knowledge in the field of cyber security.

The mystery, of the Fallen,
A haunting tale, of what could be,
For in their fall, a lesson calls,
To rise again, and break free.

- Tell us about yourself?

I'm a 28-year-old who finished med school and now work in the cybersecurity field. I'm hoping to eventually get into pen-testing to make it into the six figures. I don't have any kids, I live with my girlfriend and my English terrier. Half of my income is through blackhat, eventually when my girlfriend finishes med school we will move to Spain.

- What are your skills?

My area of competence is medicine, I am a doctor. I have experience working with a variety of social, professional, and cultural backgrounds. Since my job will eventually involve automating penetration tests in cloud environments, and securing cloud, I am in the process of learning Kubernetes and docker.

- What can you bring to the group?

I can dedicate the necessary time to group projects, assist with mentoring, and brainstorm ideas.

- What are some of your hobbies?

I usually spend my nights at the gym from 10 to midnight, studying daily to stay updated while working my shift, and occasionally play RuneScape or bot it whenever I get an hour or two in my day. My day is usually a routine, and on the weekends, the routine is broken by sporadic travel or activities such as skating, concerts, parties, social gatherings, etc.

- Why you would like to join?

I am interested in being a member of this exclusive group because I believe that I will be able to broaden my experience in other areas that I may be lacking, and on the other hand, I will also be able to contribute with my experience in return

Introduction:

Hey there! I'm a 29-year-old disabled veteran who's always had a knack for delving into the mysteries of the universe. You know, the kind of person who believes that the real adventure begins where the light fades and the shadows deepen.

Skills:

I've honed a diverse set of skills throughout my journey, from strategic thinking and problem-solving to leadership and adaptability. My military background has equipped me with discipline, resilience, and a keen eye for detail.

What I bring to the group:

As a seasoned veteran with a passion for the unknown, I bring a unique perspective to the table. My experience has taught me the value of teamwork, perseverance, and thinking outside the box. I thrive in high-pressure situations and excel at finding solutions where others see only obstacles.

Hobbies:

When I'm not busy unraveling the mysteries of the cosmos, you can find me indulging in a variety of hobbies. I enjoy stargazing, exploring abandoned places, reading ancient myths and legends, and pondering the great questions of existence over a cup of coffee.

Reason for joining:

I'm drawn to your team's quest for knowledge and exploration. The opportunity to collaborate with like-minded individuals who share my passion for the unknown is incredibly enticing. I believe that together, we can unlock the secrets of the universe and embark on a journey that transcends the boundaries of ordinary existence. Count me in—I'm ready to dive headfirst into the abyss and discover what lies beyond.

- Tell us about yourself?

Greetings! I am Absence. I joined in 2012, originally I was looking to expand my graphics design skills, and knowledge into the technical realm outside of gaming/private servers. I originally played/ran/hosted/staffed/etc servers, mainly having a passion for WoW servers. After coming over here, and leaving that scene, I got involved with rats/bots/malware. I quickly made a couple good friends, and partnered with one on his service. His account is now gone or maybe listed as "Guest" as I think something happened between how HF was ran then, and now. Our service wasn't highly publicized, but it was a powerful service, had good reviews, and I loved doing sales for it. That experience, and the graphics design experience, taught me about my passion for sales, and working with others. I have been able to take this through different jobs and potential careers on my journey.

- What are your skills?

Some graphic design, PR, sales, I have taken basic A+ hardware/networking. I enjoy building a brand/image, I enjoy being supportive to people working on the same goal. I would imagine my graphic design is pretty rusty, but it was a skill I learned I am sure I will take into the future somewhere.

- What can you bring to the group?

I want to build strong interpersonal connections with people. I know a few members already, and we all have good friendships. I have no tolerance for bullshit, especially when it involves things effecting my peers. I also love to laugh, at myself included, because we aren't here for a long time. I would love to bring any skills I have to the table, whether it is helping build community, or working on projects, I try to contribute where I can. I am pretty active these days since my return.

- What are some of your hobbies?

I am a music junkie, I love to just jam out.. I bought myself a game system, so I have been trying to force myself to get back into gaming, I used to have a PC I built and played all sorts of games on, so I figured I can get back into it on console this time. Researching current events, paying attention to HF, working on some side projects, looking for potential work. I also have started a fitness regimen!

- Why you would like to join?

Consistently I find myself communicating with Fallen members, they are my friends. I am also sure that through joining, I will get a chance to build with people I may not have before, and I would be doing a disservice to myself by not trying to join a quality group. Plus, I get to look a bit cooler ?

During one of my favorite times on the internet, I read this quote "Hello. Epiphany is upon you. Your pilgrimage has begun. Enlightenment awaits." as well as "IT IS THROUGH THIS PILGRIMAGE THAT WE SHAPE OURSELVES AND OUR REALITIES"

Thanks!

Code Tell us about yourself?

Hey there! I'm an IT enthusiast with a knack for turning coffee into code. Over the years, I've gotten really good at building things that work well and solve real problems. My career is a mix of coding marathons and "aha!" moments in software development.

Code What are your skills?

I'm pretty handy with Python, Java, and C++, and I love putting them to work on anything from small scripts to big cloud infrastructures. I'm also a fan of Docker and Kubernetes, and enjoy tinkering with anything that can automate the boring stuff.

Code What can you bring to the group?

I'd bring a fresh perspective and a can-do spirit. I love collaborating, sharing tips and tricks, and bouncing ideas off others. I'm all about making our work environment fun and productive.

Code What are some of your hobbies?

When I'm not coding, I'm probably reading up on the latest in tech, contributing to open source, or playing around with machine learning models. It's my way of staying sharp and connected with the tech world.

Code Why would you like to join?

I'm excited about the idea of joining your group because it sounds like a place where I can both share what I know and learn a ton from others. Plus, it seems like you guys are doing some really cool stuff, and I'd love to be a part of that! Finally, I love the concept of fallen.

About:

I am a dedicated researcher with a PhD in econometrics and a current position as a professor. My academic journey has been focused on exploring the intersection of statistical modeling, high-performance computing, and economic analysis. Over the years, I've developed a passion for pushing the boundaries of traditional econometric methodologies through the integration of advanced computational techniques and machine learning approaches.

Skills:

Expertise in econometrics: Proficient in designing and implementing complex statistical models to analyze economic data and draw meaningful insights.

High-performance computing: Skilled in leveraging computational resources to enhance the efficiency and scalability of econometric analysis.

Machine learning: Continuously expanding my knowledge in machine learning methodologies to augment traditional econometric techniques and improve forecasting accuracy.

Data analysis and visualization: Proficient in handling large datasets and communicating findings effectively through visualizations and presentations.

What can I bring to the group:

I bring a unique blend of academic rigor, practical experience, and a passion for innovation to the group. My expertise in econometrics and high-performance computing, combined with my enthusiasm for exploring cutting-edge machine learning techniques, will contribute to enriching discussions and driving collaborative projects within the community. I am committed to sharing insights, offering guidance, and fostering a supportive environment where members can learn from each other and grow professionally.

What are some of my hobbies?

Outside of my professional pursuits, I enjoy immersing myself in the world of machine learning, experimenting with new algorithms, and exploring innovative applications in various domains. I also find relaxation and inspiration in outdoor activities such as hiking and photography, which provide a welcome balance to my academic endeavors. I'm also extremely into golf and wine.

Why would I like to join?

I am eager to join the group to connect with fellow experts and enthusiasts who share my passion for econometrics, high-performance computing, and machine learning. I see this as an opportunity to exchange ideas, collaborate on interdisciplinary projects, and stay abreast of the latest developments in the field. I am excited about the prospect of contributing to a vibrant community of researchers and practitioners and leveraging our collective expertise to tackle complex challenges and drive innovation.

This is My Entry Attempt to hopefully enter one of the most respected groups on HF. Thank you for the opportunity

I Really Want This, And Here's Why

- I'm Middle Aged, Male, And Ambitious to the teeth! I Love to Learn and help others learn.

I am an educationalist when it comes to health remedies and other things of that nature.

I was Born near the Canadian Border, and reside in the USA. Hopefully going to change that some day.

I like to help people, more than I like to help myself, sometimes seen as a FLAW, but I see it as a BLESSING

I'd like to find a way to make a difference in the world, and to do that i need to surround myself with like-minded people and High Quality Company

I am always naturally curious, so I like to ask questions when the time is right, and try and view the world from as many different angle's as I can.

Overall, I'm just a normal guy, with a taste for a little Darkness and a little Light. And an UNQUENCHABLE THIRST for knowledge!

- My skills would definitely center around Social Engineering, followed by hunting for Exploits, Bugs, and Glitches in various things such as video games and programs/apps on different platforms. I have a YouTube channel dedicated to 2 things, Growing Cannabis, and HACKING video games, for the Lulz. currently have just under 1.5K subs on YouTube, slowly growing towards monetization. Another skill I have is the ability to keep my cool, and not over-react to situations. Silence is a Weapon. I am proficient at Soldering (surface mount and Micro soldering included) as well as installing MOD CHIPS in various devices. Consoles, E-bikes, Motorcycles, Mopeds, No-peds, Etc. I consider myself a Hardware-Bender. I love FORCING hardware to perform the way I WANT it to, not the way it was LIMITED by the designers. that's my view on electronics for the most part. My social skills are quite adept, And I treat everyone with respect until there's a reason not to.

- I can bring to the group, Joy, Laughter, A 2nd perspective on things, my time, my effort, my willingness to help others, my dedication to HF will carry over to Fallen as This is the Home Of The Fallen. I am a DAILY poster, i stay active, and i stay as HQ as i can possibly be with my posts. I can bring a new breath of fresh air to the group in the form of laughter, and comradery! I'll always have my brother's Back's! I'm friends with Half of Fallen already, so I see it quite fitting to support my friends/Brothers. I also can dedicate machine power when latent if needed.

- I am a professional Cannabis Grower, I run 4 separate smoke shops so SALESMANSHIP is my absolute strong suite, I am business oriented and always keep a sharp mind, I am good with OSINT, And I generally am a great SE, but I try to use those skills for good if I use them ;) I'm patient. And finally, I am HUNGRY for more! I want to learn EVERYTHING, and apply it in the most efficient way possible. I am good at finding EXPLOITS, it seems to be a knack of mine. I enjoy it very much.

- I want to join so I can be with my Brothers, and feel like part of the Fallen Family. every member I see is a respectable one. with good history and MUCH to learn from. i want to surround myself with mature, SMART, and like-minded people. I think Fallen is the most respectable group on HF, so I would wear the black wings with PRIDE, and always keep my feathers BLACK and full of Darkness.

I think I would make a good Addition to your Group, and i would consider it a GREAT honor if I was invited one day.

~Finally, Thank you to Yanix for the inspiration! You say everything happens for a reason, so maybe this will happen too. and for always being a great friend to me. online and off.
To Join Fallen would make me Very Honored, and even more so MOTIVATED

Holy smokes this is an awesome posts !!!

Evolution Zero - May 18, 2024, 10:50 am

Greetings,

Allow me to introduce myself. I am an adept cybersecurity professional with a background in business studies. Over the years, I have fostered extensive expertise in microcomputer hardware, maintenance, coding, game development and a diverse array of data manipulation languages. My journey into the realm of technology commenced during my adolescence when I delved into managing a World of Warcraft private server, igniting my passion for SQL and setting the stage for a continuous pursuit of knowledge.

Skills:

My proficiency spans various domains including penetration testing, omnichannel marketing, and adept database design encompassing both SQL and NoSQL frameworks. With five years of experience in C++ development and eight years in Adobe suite applications, I possess a robust technical foundation. Additionally, my competencies extend to utilizing tools such as Kali Linux for security assessments, conducting competitive intelligence analyses, and engaging in reverse engineering endeavors, all underscored by an unwavering commitment to excellence.

Contribution to the Group:

In joining your esteemed group, I offer a multifaceted contribution of skills you will not find elsewhere. Beyond technical prowess, I am keen on fostering an environment conducive to growth and collaboration. Whether it entails providing guidance to aspiring developers, stimulating profound philosophical discourse, crafting engaging visual content, orchestrating promotional campaigns, or ensuring the well-being of every member, my dedication is unwavering.

Hobbies:

Outside the realm of technology, I find solace in physical fitness regimens, immersive gaming experiences, and the captivating narratives of anime.

Motivation:

My aspiration to be part of this collective stems from a desire to immerse myself in a community characterized by unparalleled expertise in hacking and online monetization. I am driven by the prospect of continuous learning and meaningful engagement with like-minded individuals who share a passion for technological innovation and mastery.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to and grow alongside your esteemed group.

Warm regards,

Xplicit

I am a cybersecurity professional accredited by ANSI to show compliance with the ISO 17024 Standard via having my Security+ certificate from CompTIA. I also hold a degree in Network Systems Technology with a focus in Network Security. I am going back to college to pursue my master's degree in Information Systems.

- What are your skills?

I possess a wealth of knowledge ranging from SEO, game-server advertising, coding, and database manipulation (T-SQL, SQL, C++, LUA, Java, and Python). I also develop graphic art in my spare time and reverse engineer programs. I have experience with microcomputer hardware and maintenance, business, obfuscation methodology, various TTP used by professional security experts, have a broker's license, and operate my own LLC.

In addition to these, I have spearheaded numerous entrepreneurial ventures, including establishing and marketing private servers for World of Warcraft. Over the years, I've honed my skills in project management, customer acquisition, and community building within the gaming industry.

- What can you bring to the group?

My goal is to help others in the group learn more about the intricate side of hacking by providing them with useful information. I also want to meet new people who enjoy collaborating on projects, talking about philosophy, and brainstorming ways to make money. Drawing from my experience in various fields, I can offer insights into business strategies, marketing tactics, and technical expertise, particularly in the realm of online gaming.

- What are some of your hobbies?

I am a big-time gamer, sports fan, and love walking my dog. In my spare time, I enjoy diving into new business ventures, exploring the latest trends in technology, and immersing myself in the world of online gaming.

- Why would you like to join?

I would like to join to be part of a group of like-minded individuals who seek to further their knowledge by learning more, each and every day. I believe I can bring a lot to this group and make a difference both in the actual group and on the forum itself. I would love to find a new group to call my home.

- Tell us about yourself?

I'm a pentester, business owner, and exploit/malware dev with nearly two decades of IT and security experience. I'm basically like a fucking grandpa in this community at this point. Old school but skilled and experienced at my job and keeping you kids out of orange uniforms.

- What are your skills?

Penetration testing, network protocol analysis, wireless network analysis, Linux sysadmin, Windows domain management, web application security testing, software development (C/C++, Python, Rust, Golang, Ruby, C#), malware development, exploit development

- What can you bring to the group?

I offer mentorship and my life experience. I also am interested in various business ventures and making money, so I'm looking to join groups that offer up similar aims.

- What are some of your hobbies?

Besides my job, which is a hobby or sorts, I play video games, guitar, hike, and solder a bit. I also travel frequently.

- Why you would like to join?

I'm here to do business, build a network of skilled individuals, and make money. I can probably help a few people along the way.

Looking forward to hearing back.

Lol. I actually prefer Ubuntu and just load my own tools on it, but you're right that I don't rely on Kali. It's too broken and unstable. Just pure frustration, most days.

I just really loved that movie when I was a kid.

Arch is a slight pain to get used to but even more pain installing correctly.

Definitely needing to see more HQ apps on here ! <3

Py_Dev - May 28, 2024, 6:38 pm

- Tell us about yourself?

Hello I am Py_Dev I am almost two years sober. Was addicted to cocaine and alcohol for about 10 years. After getting out of my funk I have returned to what I love and that is cyber security.

- What are your skills?

Python/HTML/CSS/C#/Botnets. Multiple OS from linux-windows. Pen-testing and machine learning techniques.

- What can you bring to the group?

My coding skills if that is useful for you all. I have extensive knowledge on botnets and everything that includes. Exploits, RATs, all of that kind of stuff.

- What are some of your hobbies?

I play video games, watch movies. I play basketball and I like to do research on trending malware. I enjoy coding really. It is fun to see how things operate and being able to see your results unfold is very rewarding.

- Why you would like to join?

I like the userbar and think I would be a valuable resource to other members. I see many of the member in fallen and I like the vibes of this group. Something I would like to be apart of.

Tell us about yourself?

Hi, I'm Tooburnt. I'm known for my unique ability to clean things up as if they never happened. Whether it's a physical mess, a digital trail, or a tricky situation that needs smoothing over, I excel at making it all disappear seamlessly. My knack for restoring order and tranquility is what sets me apart.

What are your skills?

My primary skill is cleaning things up so thoroughly that there's no trace left behind. This includes:

- Mess Management: Handling and eliminating physical clutter or spills swiftly and efficiently.
- Digital Cleanup: Removing digital footprints and organizing data to ensure privacy and order.
- Crisis Resolution: Smoothing over misunderstandings and resolving conflicts to restore harmony.
- Attention to Detail: Ensuring that no small detail is overlooked, leaving everything spotless and in perfect condition.

What can you bring to the group?

I can bring a sense of order and calm to the group. With my ability to clean up any mess, I can ensure that the team always operates in a tidy, organized, and stress-free environment. Whether it's dealing with unexpected problems or maintaining a clean workspace, I can handle it all, allowing the group to focus on their primary tasks without distractions.

What are some of your hobbies?

In my free time, I enjoy playing video games and indulging in photography. Video games help me unwind and sharpen my problem-solving skills, while photography allows me to capture and appreciate the beauty in everyday moments. Both hobbies complement my attention to detail and appreciation for well-organized and aesthetically pleasing environments.

Why would you like to join?

I'd like to join because I want to be part of something bigger than myself. Being in a group allows me to contribute my unique skills towards a collective goal, making a meaningful impact. By joining, I can help the team thrive and succeed, while also experiencing the satisfaction of working together towards common objectives. Being part of a larger purpose motivates me to give my best and continuously improve.

- Tell us about yourself.

I was an active member of HF over 10 years ago, especially in the Social Engineering forum, and I created a lot of methods that were used widely throughout the HF Community. I got falsely banned due to an HF Staff member's mistake, and I've recently returned. Feel free to report me to Omni for ban evading, but I've already informed him and the Staff of who I am and the situation. They've investigated my ban and realised the staff member fucked up, and I'm not banned. Again, feel free to report me or ask staff if you have any doubts <3.

In the past, I was as black as it gets, but currently, I don't participate in anything that is blackhat or at least against my moral compass. My moral compass has greatly changed throughout that 10-year gap, especially since starting a family.

Currently, I'm a Tech Lead, but I've got professional experience as a penetration tester and even started a VPN Business, which grew to £500K ARR within 6 months.

- What are your skills?

Software Dev
Social Engineering
Launching Startups & Startup Strategy
Web Application Pen Testing
Marketing
General business shite

- What can you bring to the group?

The value that my skills, knowledge and experience hold.

- What are some of your hobbies?

Software Dev, Helping people on StackOverflow, Spending time with family, reading books and watching podcasts I'm hella boring

- Why you would like to join?

I actually don't know tbh, probably just to try and be useful to someone

I do know that I'm not massively active on HF but it's because a lot of the posts are just first posters asking for help to hack someones facebook or it's just lounge chit chat which I don't really participate in cause I have more interesting things to do instead. If you look at my posts I have shit posted a tiny bit but a good percentage of my posts are just me trying to be helpful, give advice or helping someone.
