Thread: What's your complaint for the day?

Mooooookie - April 19, 2024, 8:39 am

People love to complain about things, sometimes because they really have a complaint, or sometimes just to let off some steam. So go ahead and let it out.. if you had one thing to complain about right now, what would it be?

Deany - April 19, 2024, 8:42 am

Today I am complaining about no sales for my ebay/fb stuff I'm selling XD

Had no clue you were pushing products on ebay and fb. Good shit. How long have you been into that?

COol. I used to do something similar, with used cell phones. I would buy them cheap, and sell high. Some of them needed minor repairs, which I would do myself, and then flip for a profit. Can be some good profits, if you choose the right items.

iiFinance - April 19, 2024, 9:05 am

Dealing with taxes, had my tax document rejected for my business and now dealing with this BS.

gwiz - April 19, 2024, 9:08 am

Come so my dishes.

That is all...

I have so much stressing objects right now

Village8 - April 19, 2024, 11:21 am

I am complaining that I have eaten too much today xD

Slumerican ? - April 19, 2024, 11:27 am

Perhaps it could mean more money? I'm not quite sure. My day today has been very good, and I have no complaints and don't plan to :)

Take care, everyone.

Mercury - April 19, 2024, 5:15 pm

If I had to complain about one thing today, it would be the overall frustration within me due to other department's lack of competency at work. Not to mention their inability to function without the help of others..

LMPara - April 19, 2024, 5:46 pm

Today I am complaining that its too cold for just a tshirt and shorts outside but too warm for a jacket and pants

happygonutty - April 19, 2024, 5:48 pm

Complaining on why am I here at HF goofing around with you guys while I have so many things to do outside this forum and deadlines to finish. Hahaha.

?ystem - April 19, 2024, 9:20 pm

My only complaint for the day is the weather where I live. Last week it was warm, pushing 80° and now there's a freeze warning from NOAA for my area. Land of 10,000 Despairs.

Ughhh, that sounds like getting sick weather. It's definitely that time of year for that weather change.

I'm so fucking exhausted today and I have seem to be able to catch a break at all. That's all basically

OpSecSurvival - April 19, 2024, 11:54 pm

THAT I CANT BUY THE BLACK LEAF AWARD BC BTC FEES ARE HIGHER THAN EVER IVE EVER SEEN IN MY LIFE RIGHT NOW

The FEE is ALMOST as much as the $54.20 black leaf.

which is why i will be not participating unfortunately.... so sad.. but NOT paying DOUBLE the price for an award bc of the halving

BTC can eat it lol

was lined up to buy 3 and saw the $137 FEEEEEE and was like NOPE!!!!!! awards are meaningless IRL... had to humble myself

even tho im the 420 guy... sheezuz thats just too much. $10 fee sure, $40 fee no wayyyyyyy

i was SO EXCITED and now its like the biggest RIP ever... wether timed or just HAPPENED TO BE bc of the halving, but would YOU pay $90 for the black leaf award??? honestly? anyone???

the transfer fee's are THROUGH THE ROOOOOOOF!!!!!! for BTC anyways.

Omniscient you should kinda.... extend the hours to buy the 420 awards due to $40+ transfer fees RN for some of us.....

i want to spend SO bad!! but i just cant justify it... it feels manufactured by powers bigger than i understand. market timing..... idk, just frustrated cuz been WAITING to buy this award, now its almost 2X the price bc of the halving, rightly frustrating.

I don't know much about crypto.. I've been using BTC for about 4-5 years, but I only recently started trying other coins. I'm completely lost in regards to the transfer fees you're talking about. Why is it $40 in transfer fees? My fees were less then $4. I paid $0.80 to convert USDT to LTC, and $3 fee to send the LTC. How are we reaching $40?!?

diablospartan - April 20, 2024, 4:38 am

Well even if i can find many reasons to complain i chose not to complain and instead be grateful that i wake up i have a life a house ,i am healthy etc .I am just thinking that milions of people who are sick ,very poor from africa ,with disabilities will give everything to be in my place

Gas prices are insanely high rn in Canada. For premium, it's over $2/L. Which is nearing $8 a gallon in the USA.

marioscars - April 21, 2024, 12:04 am

I like this idea, it's like a venting zone.. I have A LOT to complain about and also things to be thankful for, I can currently complain about the neighbors and the noises they make just about any time but I don't want to create a tension between us lol

Hah, yeah that was the idea when I started the thread... give the fellas a place to let out whatever complaint was on their mind. They sometimes its best to get it off your chest.. so go ahead fellas, speak your peace.

Prices for gas here compared to the States has always been very expensive and I don't know why. The only time when our prices were comparable is literally during COVID and our gas was like 70 cents a litre

Why the fuck is our government so corrupt and shit. I hate our political climate and I hate the death of real debating. Now its just filled with insults aimed to destroy credibility, white supremacist, racist, homophobic, transphobic. Toxic af social landscape and its infuriating.

Hmm, currently..I complain that a certain family member is absolutely not willing to take responsibilities for his own failures and is constantly blaming others.

Mooooookie - April 21, 2024, 3:07 pm

Let it off your chest fellas... no need to keep it bottled inside. :) tomorrow is monday, sounds like fun..?

anoncrab - April 21, 2024, 7:37 pm

I just have to complain about how the ending of my favorite show, Resident Alien, ended so abruptly. I was really enjoying watching it, and now it's left on a cliffhanger. :/
