Dude,

I remember joining HF for the first time back in like 2009. The layout was your standard mybb template that looked kinda, eh (maybe because it was 2000 and fcking 9), I think HF uber and leet just came out, the community was still popping and Backtrack 4 was the shiz. I lost track of that account at some point, maybe deleted for inactive, whatever.

I come back to check out HF over a decade and a half later and MAN, this forum looks so fcking good!

I really don't know how many people now days remember HF back then, but its like the original HF had a baby with Mila Kunis and came out with this.

..... That's all.

It has certainly grown over the years. It still has the original feel IMO.

Does it? I trust that. I'm just comparing based on my memory, which is arguably shit.

Oh, I remember that time well. It was when I first joined HF as well. Backtrack 4 great, I used to brute force VPS and card domains, upload shells to backdoor sites, and steal information including credit cards. Those were exciting times.

I was away for like 4 years and honestly thought my account was removed due to inactivity, but here I am. ?

What a long, strange trip it's been, huh.

Syndicate - April 22, 2024, 10:48 pm

Oh boy, it was hectic back then. It's such a huge ass difference now then it was before

Welcome back, while much has probably changed since your last time here... alot more is about to change. Forum is supposed to be getting a server upgrade, and along with that some other cool stuff. Looks like you came back right in time.
