Movie 43 was so bad for me I didn't even realize you also put Battlefield Earth, which was also a landfill of garbage.

I used to watch so many movies, it's crazy. Recently, a real bad one I couldn't stand, but everyone seems to love, is

Alone (2020)

It's on Netflix, I really liked some of the 90's style thriller camera work, especially at the beginning when following behind the Jeep and the angle the camera was at, and just felt so 90s to me. But the girls acting and her overselling everything and just going way overboard where it's like..."OOOHHH COME ON" I had to stop midway, and I don't ever do that Most bad movies are just disposables. Once your done with them you just forget.
