Thread: What's the FIRST thing you do when you get home from a long day out?

gwiz - April 24, 2024, 8:21 pm

Putting on my PJ pants, my crocs, and starting my laptop are some of the very first things I do when I get home from work or even just being out of the house all day.

What are the first things YOU do?

Interesting answers though lol ^_^

Its pretty much LAW for me, get home, blaze, live life, blaze, sleep, wake, blaze, live life, repeat.

Yanix - April 25, 2024, 12:09 am

I usually drink water and take a shower then relax for a while before going to open my computer.

Moookie - April 25, 2024, 2:28 am

Drink a full glass of water. I often don't get enough hydration when I'm out for a long day...so that's first.

Tends to be quite late because I've been to work followed by gym. So if we haven't eaten out, it's to reheat the food that was cooked! If I haven't been to the gym then it's get out of the clothes I've been wearing into something wayyyyy more comfy.

Beherit - April 26, 2024, 8:39 am

I'll try to unwind by taking a hot shower, usually followed up with a beer.

630 - April 27, 2024, 6:11 am

After a long day of work I usually sit in my kitchen for about 15 minutes to wind down and relax before a shower.

Dam13n - April 27, 2024, 9:23 am

Make sure everything is in order at home and then it's relaxing from there.

Ok that's good at least haha. Yeah I've been a lot better about getting more water in me throughout the day recently as well. Definitely helps in multiple ways.
