BlackWidow1 - April 26, 2024, 5:42 pm

BLACKROCK, a leading financial company, is accumulating some tokens in its portfolio, take a look and follow smart capital .

1- $RIO (Realio Network) :

Spotted $10k of $RIO in the Blackrock wallet.

2- $LNDX (LandX Finance) :

Spotted 1K of $LNDX into BlackRock's Wallet

3- $TRADE (PolyTrade)

4- $BOSON (Boson Protocol)

As Web3's decentralized trading layer, Boson Protocol enables the tokenization, transfer, and trading of physical assets as redeemable Non-Fungible Tokens (NFTs).

5- $RWA (Xend Finance)

Xend Finance, backed by Binance Labs & Google Launchpad, is at the forefront of financial innovation, bridging the gap between traditional finance (tradFi) and DeFi.

Currently, the market capitalization for RWA is low, and the tokens have not yet been mined.

What do you think about the RWA sector over the next

5 years? [warn]

Were they "bought" pr airdropped to their wallet? Many scam tokens will airdrop to these big wallets to get exposure so unless they bought them its irrelevant.

Like elision said, these wallets are using for advertising by useless projects, Blackrock not going to buy 10k$ worth anything. They won't support single project if owner not Zionist&Jew(in their book "Talmud" it is forbidden to deal with anyone who is not Jew, they consider anyone who is not Jew is animal), BTC is exceptional because they need to be in control to manipulate entire market.

Every sector can be approached from the perspective that it was a futile fall, everything has a roadmap, which projects take off quickly, which don't.

You can look at the Coin meme to talk about the fall. Internet marketing and nothing else. I think this issue should be approached from a speculative point of view and not with faith in the future of the sector. everything involves high risk, the main thing is for what purpose one enters this game.
