Thread: Are you currently watching any recently released anime?

I was planning to stop watching ongoing anime when a certain series came to an end but I fell for Isekai junk like I always do so I'm waiting for about 4-6 shows each week now

I can't bring myself to avoid watching Isekai, it's my weakness ?

No , I only built and collect robots.

Just finished Solo Leveling, wasn't what I expected from the title and I really enjoyed it. The 2nd episode got me captivated.

Actually I was watching an old episode of the One Piece anime. The one that featured Captain Kuro. And I have to say out of the earlier episodes it was one of the darker outros to of occurred. Captain Kuro basically wins in the end, getting Nami to sign off on a contract. She gets landlocked and has to see her friends leave dock without her.

The announcer plays it off like they'll meet again but for the time being they were separated and not of any natural disaster, nor their own volition.

I try to binge them when they finish but the ones that can't wait are Demon Slayer, My Hero Academia.

Currently watching Mushoku Tensei's latest season weekly.

I'm with you on waiting for Demon Slayer. I honestly can't wait. I've yet to watch My Hero Academia but I hear it's great.

Both have different premises but the tone is the same imo - serious but funny moments in between.

Delicious In Dungeon

Far as I've seen, there's no real plot. It's an anime about dungeon adventurers who cook and eat the dungeon monsters they kill.

Looks like a fun one. It's on my list, but I will binge once finished. Good casual show!

I used to be a binge-watcher, but around two to three years ago I switched to mainly watching airing shows. I prefer it more, but when I get lazy I get swamped with shows I need to catch up on.

Sorry for the late response, been working ?

Here's a few of the current shows I'm waiting for weekly; WIND BREAKER (just picked it up, animation and character designs are cool)

THE NEW GATE

Kaiju No.8

The Banished Former Hero Lives as He Pleases

Chillin' in Another World with Level 2 Super Cheat Powers

As a Reincarnated Aristocrat, I'll Use My Appraisal Skill to Rise in the World and A Salad Bowl of Eccentrics

I also finished Solo Leveling recently

I really hope that Shangri-La Frontier gets a season 2 sometime in the near future, I was hooked on that every week a new episode dropped I can't wait to see more

I am away a little now, but I heard about maboroshi so I may look at it when I am good

From the shows you listed, I'm enjoying these two very much: Kaiju No.8

As a Reincarnated Aristocrat, I'll Use My Appraisal Skill to Rise in the World

Thanks for telling me!!! I'm very excited to hear that ?

If you watch anything other than airing anime you're a loser

There is a kind of story — they have to save the knight's sister from a dragon — but really no one seems to care that much about her lol. They barely mention her and the knight is more excited about eating than he is worried about his sister. No one is in a rush to get her. There's also a bigger "plot" about some mad magician and big treasure, but even here none of the main characters really seem to care about it.

Been watching "Studio Apartment, Good Lighting, Angel Included", saw it on YouTube and it sorta peaked my interest so I'm just going with the flow of the anime.

Banana Fish on Amazon Prime. The story is really sad and its actually a good anime. But it's a weird story. I dont wanna spoil anything but trust me you will like the anime! First time I tought also nah its nothing for me but when you watch more episodes you will like it
