Thread: How do I continue to make money from my method

gex231 - April 29, 2024, 2:40 am

Hey,
So I started betting and I'm doing exceedingly well. I started with €1k and have been trading with the same sum of money for a few months, I'm at about €2.5k profit after a couple of months.
Due to this profit I have now been limited on 1 of the 2 bookies I'm using, and I suspect I'm going to be limited very soon on the other bookie I use.

With this in mind I need a way to get more bookie accounts, and I am looking for advice on how to do that without getting scammed.

My first thought was to hire people to let me trade on their own account with their own funds, lock my funds in an escrow, so that in the event that I "scam" they get the money locked in escrow, and give 25% of the profit generated. This will lead me to get scammed as you, the person hired can simply withdraw whatever money was put in.

I had another thought of buying verified accounts, but I was unable to find any that sell betting accounts, and buying IDs will just lead to getting accounts locked as I don't know what I'm doing there. Not to mention the biggest problem with bookies is that when you start making money they ask for additional verification.

Does anyone have any ideas on this, want to work together on this, or have any tips or advice?

Thank you in advance.

Anything about long distance gambling excitement will not bring success, but will only waste immunity.

Earnings are better sought in attracting addicted people by affiliate marketing.

I want to point out, I am not gambling.

Gambling would mean I do not have an edge and I simply "got lucky". The earnings proof should suffice in proving I did not simply "get lucky".

But I do agree that there are far more lucrative methods out there. I am not interested in affiliate marketing though.

I suppose you can use you winning trades, track statistics in a way that can be tracked to show your win/lose, then sell signals? I have seen various ways of this being done from groups to services.

Design membership plans for trials, then length of time, or amount of signals?

I did have this thought, but I'm placing bets live, for 5-10 hours a day, placing upwards of 80 bets a day. I don't imagine that's something I could sell as a service. Very few people have the time for that.

If you have a very solid win rate with proof, people may be interested.

Have you tried on a crypto casino that takes sport bets they usually don't limit players easily

Would you be interested in purchasing a service for $100/m where I post tips that you need to place within 30 seconds of me posting them, and sit there for 4+ hours a day to make (but not guarantee) a profit? As much as making a service is the way to go for most people, I strongly believe my customer base would be severely limited as in my opinion, that's just a bad deal most people won't be interested in.

Thanks, but they take a far higher commission from users, profit is severely limited when using crypto casinos.
