People say from the economy failing to the nukes in north korea its only a matter of time before the end is near. What do you guys think? I personally think everything is staged on the media but i could just be delusional ?

LTC - May 1, 2024, 2:05 pm

Well Not everything is staged but Most of the Media Is Corrupt U got ur own right to ask if something is real Dont forget that but The ending isnt near i am pretty sure No one is gonna start raining nukes out of nowhere

I foresee the downfall of America within the next 100 years. I imagine a civil war unfolding and being the primary cause. Furthermore, to establish one order amongst the world, or "New World Order," there can be no superpowers in play.

Every generation thinks they're living in end times but this thing just keeps going. I do agree with you that almost everything on the media is staged.

So you're an optimist huh? I wouldnt give it 100 years personally at this rate. Maybe 10? I mean the government might formally survive but it won't be the same country.

I'd like to remain optimistic, but who am I kidding? Our government is an empty shell of what it once was. Furthermore, the American dream is essentially dead. The idea of "Land of the free, home of the brave" is smoke and mirrors at this point.

I doubt it will end anytime soon.

If nukes fly, no one wins.

BlackWidow1 - May 1, 2024, 3:27 pm

The end of the world is a cancerous topic that will live on in minds as long as there are those who believe in it.

Exile - May 1, 2024, 3:37 pm

People have been crying "the end is near" since the beginning

Deany - May 1, 2024, 4:51 pm

Yes, everything is staged and they know the future.

flyingduck - May 1, 2024, 5:18 pm

reminds me of:

The end of the world is near." So said an Egyptian priest about 4000 B.C.
