Thread: Ugh, the fckN disappointment

Mooooookie - May 2, 2024, 12:17 am

I was on like 92% on my Everyday Ninja award, and actually managed to skip a day earlier in the week..... right back down to 0% .. well not really, it's at 3% .. but might as well be 0% .. bahaha.. shit happens. There will be no crying over spilled milk over here... we just step our game up and try harder on this next 100 day run!

Now that's how you handle a loss, like a boss. ?

Absence - May 2, 2024, 12:21 am

Damn I am sorry for that boss. Keep working, good luck.

Appreciate it, and yes you know I shall continue to push forward.. while I was almost there, failing to get there has just helped me to focus on an area that I was obviously lacking in, which is organization.

Routine! Make it any goal objective apart of your routine :) Here or in life in general. That is what helps me.

That's a bummer. Continue the grind :D

That's the plan. I will focus on getting myself organized on a whole, not as far as HF. While HF is fun, it's only a small percentage of my day. So if I can focus on being more organized as a whole, it should naturally also apply to what I do on HF.... hopefully. I have some things in mind on what I will do to become more organized, and will start to apply them starting tomorrow morning.

And hopefully 100 days from now, I will be looking back on this post, and thinking yes.. you did it!

While the Lounge Head might of got reset back to 3% ... I'm at 90% on another one, and I don't think its possible that it gets reset back to 0% unless I just stop coming on the site for a couple days or weeks... which at the moment, I don't have any intention on doing.

Really? I've read about the same thing happening to other members, I guess it's easy to overlook a day when you're not using an alarm to remind you. I had an alarm set, but I'm always up at 3:10 when the Check-In thread resets, so didn't feel it was necessary to set an alarm. And while I wasn't asleep on the day I missed, I was caught up with something else that took all my attention away. When I realized I skipped a day, I honestly thought it was a bug in the forum.. LOL. I was like hell nooooo. Impossible! Can't be! There's no way! But sure enough, I skipped it. :]

Just gotta stick with it mate

L?G?ND - May 2, 2024, 3:39 am

That's unfortunate, but better luck next time. Did you develop a strategy, or were you just posting sporadically?

Lounge head is "Make 500 Lounge Posts in 30 days."

I think he means everyday ninja, but lounge head also needs consistent effort..

SpiritualDose - May 2, 2024, 4:40 am

To be honest I'd probably sell my phone and get a Motorola. I think I've made it to 70% before. Im currently at 7% for the everyday ninja (which is what I think you're referring to as far as the 100 day run)

My lounge head (500 posts in 30 days) is at 17%

Lounge head or the Daily Ninja?

Eran - May 2, 2024, 12:03 pm

It's a shame you didn't achieve it during last month, it's going to be harder now. Ofcourse not a reason to give up, I wish you get it this time!

blackrose_x0x0 - May 2, 2024, 12:06 pm

I had a similar experience. I was so close to getting it, 90 somethin percent. I'll be going for it later this year if Omni does another Octoberfest. That's the best time to go for it imo.

ELP4P4 - May 2, 2024, 2:46 pm

so sad, 3 months not short time tbh, sorry for you lose bro.

Mooooookie - May 2, 2024, 11:08 pm

Yes, for those of you that noticed the typo... I was referring to the Everyday Ninja, not the Lounge Head. Damn thing was at 90% - I went thru mixed emotions when I saw it back down to 3% ... everything from "fuck this, im not trying that again" ... to "there much be a glitch in the system, i know i checked in everyday" to "fuck, i didnt come back to the site that one day" :\

Chapman - May 3, 2024, 4:44 am

I suggest you put a reminder on your cell phone. Anyhow, good luck!

Funny thing is, I had one set.. I was just occupied doing something else and forgot to come on the site when I was done.
