Thread: Monero \$XMR - A Great Buy Opportunity

2SLickZ - May 5, 2024, 4:20 pm

At these current levels, Monero is one of the greatest buy opportunity one can make. In my conviction, due to it not breaking its 2022's low is consider a bullish sign when it comes to trend changes. Getting delisted from one of the biggest liquidity provider still did not put enough pressure in breaking its 2022's low. Having been trading for over 10 years now, when the opportunity comes, this market structure will break pass its 2021's high. Where it will go from there? I have no idea, but as the network effect on privacy continues to trend, I believe Monero is a coin you should consider having some in your portfolio.

Good luck finding any that isn't at a super high fee.

I had bought like $550 worth when it was around $110 a few months ago, but have spent and sold every bit of it already.

The old guys need to show their strength, what about regulation and delisting from exchanges, do you think they will spread the token hype?

Since the US is after all the coin mixing services, especially since Wasabi is stopping their service completely due to concern, I think privacy coins might have a chance. Although a lot of countries are banning them, I dont think the US can ban Monero. There has to be a lot to get a ban rolling. If they can ban Monero, that's pretty much saying they can ban privacy for anyone. That means banning people from using encryption.

yes with cbdc on the way it's clear they want to be the ones in control

Doubt it is a great buy with all regulations coming in and exchanges banning XMR.

You can still buy and hold XMR on Kraken.
