Very sinister idea. So that why nowadays we get so littler conversion after putting so much on ad money.

Could be, but in 90% situations your ads and targeting are not that good.

I haven't done google ads. But on facebook I notice lot of message ads, where customer just say hi, and then never say anything.

By my experience, after 1 day google return whole amount, and after 1-2 week of using this, google avoid to show ads to this bot.

But it still working for new accounts and sensitive niches (Such as gambling and other grey niches). And this bot good way to scary someone to not advertise on some keywords.

Nice service, Good luck

This is a nightmare when it happens, it can really make life hard for a business. I'm not a fan of this as I'm whitehat and don't believe in this, but I can confirm that it causes lots of problems:

- business might run out of cash to fund ads
- it tanks conversion rates, making it hard to know if products are truly failing or not
- it worsens the site bounce rates, which can cause drop in SEO
- the new activity, if done at scale or in a smaller market, can cause spikes in ad costs due to inflated ad spend

It is maybe possible if you are using bad bot and bad proxies. We are offering 100% valid clicks which wont be refunded after some time. Also you can always make contract for vouch copy and for free check if they will be refunded.

If that's so, then you provide very good and unique service! Good luck with that, maybe someday I'll buy it)

Thanks a lot, everyone is thinking that our bot is also like that, but no. Our clicks are 100% valid and google can't recognize this as bot clicks + they won't ever be refunded. So win win for user of our bot. ?

Did you ever test the product? Was looking forward to reading your review on said product, as I've seen similar bots in the past, and as someone else mentioned, Google usually will return the money after some time. They have pretty advanced detection. But from what OP says, this will never occur with his product. Did you still plan on testing it/leaving a review?

Edit:

Now that I'm looking at the GUI, I know what this was coded in, and yes it probably does work as the OP states, because that software seems to work for coding things for even Instagram and Facebook, without having the regular detection issues that you would face when automating using browsers via Python.

OP never opened VOUCH contract. Without contract, it is against HF rules to give feedback / reviews.

I am still interested in reviewing this as I have system in place to check it's efficiency. But, OP is rarely available to me.

Ahh, I see.. I noticed he doesn't seem to be too active on the forum. He's made multiple replies since you guys have spoke about it too. Napster3301 are you planning on honoring that vouch you said you were going to give him? I'm sure if the product is as described, having an unbiased review could only help with sales.

There was something wrong with the HF, and I wasn't able to make that contract. But yeah, now I've opened it after some time.

I will be more active from now, I was very busy last few days, but on telegram I'm answering in seconds. ?

We've added SAAS offering. You dont need to buy rdps, proxies, and set up all that. We will do that for you!

myxhacka - June 10, 2024, 1:38 pm

I'm interested too, but unfortunately there isn't any review yet.
