This got recommended to me the other day and I couldn't help but laugh at how poorly researched it was. Apparently we're an "illegal American hacking forum" luring young people into the blackhat community. What are your thoughts on it?

Free publicity is free publicity.

Mostly just fearmongering about how nobody should visit the site. Only thing he got right was the amount of skids that come looking for "hack faceb00k plz"

Absence - May 13, 2024, 9:46 am

I don't like that he associates this site with blackhat "hacks" and "hacking".

There's nothing illegal about the word "hack".

for example, as proof of this, HN by YC is 100% legal and uses the word "hack" in their title.
