Thread: What kind of sunglasses do you wear?

LMPara - May 18, 2024, 4:13 pm

So to keep it real I got a fat head and every pair of sunglasses from every single brand I've ever tried has not fit point blank period. There was only one pair of raybans I ever tried and they fit perfectly but I can't find them anymore because it was like 4 years ago and I never purchased them when I should've. Any of my other fat headed fellas wear sunglasses that could recommend a nice pair? Not lookin for anything too crazy and my budget is around $300. I've been contemplating finding a custom sunglasses maker or somethin but idk. Tough decisions for a big headed mf

I have a decent sized head. I've found heatwave to be more of my style and fits perfect.

Appreciate it! I'll check em out. From the lil I seen so far on em they look pretty nice. Will do more research on them! Any specific model you recommend or are using that you like?

They're solid glasses and not too expensive. My favorite is the lazerface series. I've bought multiple pairs.

I like the way some cartiers fit my face, but I also like the brand Duco, something I have been trying recently.

"DUCO Mens Sports Polarized Sunglasses UV Protection Sunglasses for Men 8177s" $25 on amazon.

I've got Costas and Oakley's. But my two favorites are my blublockers and this one cheap set I got on Amazon

Yeah those look a lot like ducos but an even better price point (duco like 25)!

Sweet deal

I think when I bought them they had a coupon code that made them like $3 or $4
