Thread: Point Me In The Right Direction

weirdtypebeat - May 21, 2024, 10:48 am

Hi all,

Though I am new to this all, a point in the right direction, and my ability to learn and adapt to things fast should do wonders.

If anybody knows a good route to take, please leave a comment down below.

I am primarily interested in Social Media hacking, as well as Video Game hacking.

Regards,

Nathan/weirdtypebeat

There are lots of resources on the forum that can help you learn what you're interested in. The search feature is a great option to be able to find exactly what you need, or you can check out the sections and browse through a plethora of things you may find interesting and enjoyable.

I'm struggling to find the things I need at the moment, but I'm sure I'll get there.

I don't ever see many of the threads under that category receive replies, so I thought I'd ask in the lounge!

I recommend that you lurk around and you will find what interests you.
Welcome as well, and make sure to read the Help Docs!
