Any funs plans this weekend for anyone? Not much for me, just doing some home remodeling and a garage sale tomorrow so thats gonna take up most of my time this weekend, but I may go out later tonight and hang out with a few friends and hit a bar or somethin, not sure yet! Too early to tell still haha.

Getting some fine tuning of the cleaning up a property task I took on. Has been whoopin me. As well as focusing on my objectives I have started with some people on here, which I need to push forward because I have been tired.
