Do you guys remember the good old days of chat rooms. I remember I used to use them all the time. Kind of creepy now that I think of it, but I would join teen chat rooms all the time when I was younger and share music with others and talk about video games etc. I remember specifically using Xat which was so cool

I remember all the fun we used to have, as well as flooding rooms, kicking mods, it was a fun time.

Tinychat is still up but it seems pretty weird to me to go on it now.

There is no way they did not know about children getting nekkid on their webcams, and also blackmailed.

I am sure they knew about all the regular people getting naked and blackmailed, I can only imagine pissed off parents getting to them (before the lawsuit, of course).

But apparently omeple was making over 10mil a month, which is crazy 2 me lol.
