That they do my friend. This particular clients compliance audit is on a strict static timeframe so it has been penciled in for a year. I digress. The job is done and they only had a few minor discrepancies that had to be addressed in regards to securing new devices added to the domain due to a new IT company taking over.

To be fair I don't rate Chili's and Applebee's that high to begin with, but they're decent enough and for a casual dinner out. I feel like all of those kinds of places are sort of around each other quality wise. Makes sense though.

Applebee's I haven't been to in fucking ages. Back when I was a teenager or some shit maybe. Don't remember caring for it much or thinking it was anything special. Chili's I've been to in a couple of different locations and have had varied results. Sometimes decent, sometimes kinda trash. In most cases though it's been acceptable and like I said for just a casual and easy dinner out. You see Red Robin as that much better though? Damn. Well I'm sure I'll end up there one day and see for myself haha.

I've figured it out. Sometimes when I'm replying the red bubble will pop-up. Then I post and it disappears. So it did show, but a lot of times I just don't see it. When I go to the notifications, they're all there. It's just a timing issue of when it pops and I load a new page.

Ahh yeah I can see how that would happen. I'm sure it's happened to me as well, but if I know I'm actively talking in multiple threads like that, I'll normally click on the last few notis to make sure I didn't miss replying to one.

Yeah man. Good luck (if you choose to play). They're hidden for 24 hours from the time they hatch, or hit level 3, whichever comes first. If you want to keep them, make sure to buy the inviz potion for them. But, you can only use one inviz potion every 24 hours for each 10 level range (1-10, 11-20, 21-30, 31-40). And pay attention to your moves. You run out, you're SOL. There's a better thread somewhere around here that explains everything.

I just want to get more people playing. It's always more fun when more people are involved. ?

But now that you mention it...I wouldn't put it past ole Joey B and his administration to use federal tax money for DEI programs...isn't the lady with the hair that does the daily media sessions a lesbian? To bad...I'd tap it.

What y'all up to?

Dealing with 3 kids right now being a lackluster father. ?
As my curly haired grandpa would say: Shabbat Shalom to you, young man!

I just had a very cold shower after mopping up the flat 3x in a row for extra cleanliness. Stepped out and almost fainted but I just ended up holding the bathroom walls with my two hands as it passed.

I proceeded to drink 2l of refrigerated spring water and then returned to the bathroom to trim my shabby looking beard. Which turned out looking weird for one reason or another so I just simply shaved and now I have a baby face, -10 years wooo! :3

Three kids are cool, wulf, though I bet they must be a looot to handle more often than not, haha. I hope to become a proper father in a few years as well, I kind of feel obliged to God in a way, because I sadly ended up getting my gf pregnant 4 years ago and she didn't dare to keep her because of well, polysubstance abuse. So she sent her back to the Moon at the time, but I regularly have dreams with our little Luna ever since, and I'm absolutely sure that she'll just wait for us to truly get ready for her to be proper good parents, and honestly, it really feels like the bare minimum of love and respect from us towards her to one day be fully prepared and confident parents so that she can give us a second chance which I simply feel that will go so much better than what could have been back then, honestly I don't even think that she'd have turned out healthy, so... as hard as this narrative was for us to accept at the time, we understood the abortion as a sacrifice, and as long as we give our absolute best the second time 'round, I know for a fact that we'll be absolutely resolved of our sins and Luna will love us for that, as her two and only true parents that she'll appreciate so much more and be proud of how well we'll turn out as a little functional family with no more daily chaos and normalized abuse, we've grown to love eachother with my girlfriend just so much more since then, and we both know that we'll absolutely love eachother AND our little girl once the time comes for us to do it all right, and I'll never doubt the validity of this even for a second until we get there and become living proof of the miracle that is to come, I know that this is the only proper way that any and all of this will be able to go down, and I say I KNOW for a fact because she has even confirmed it all for BOTH OF US in two separate dreams that we've had with my gf, just one day apart at the time, so we honestly can't wait and until then we are literally just doing the very best that we can to get there, never doubting that we will and be happy! :)

I think a lot are going for it, but the thread requirement is going to keep more from getting it. It will also make sure most people get it later into the month and not all in the first week like the current list of hard chargers.

For sure. I know some people would look at our back and forth for instance and probably find it to be about the same thing, but I at least see it as different. Maybe it's a bit bias because it's me lol and I don't want to think of what we're doing as LQ, but nah I mean it's not like we're just saying a few words, repeating the same shit, or firing off gibberish.

Our back and forth is at least multiple sentences, and on topic to what was last said. Half of the ones last year were so damn generic one-liners. Threads began to meld together out of sheer simplicity. No one gave any thought to any reply, it was just throw words in the box and send it. ?

Yeah I think as long as you have a bit of length to it and you're actually having some sort of a genuine conversation rather than just saying random shit, repeating, etc, then it's all good. Like you said though, some of the posting that was going on last year might as well have just been considering spam lol.

Yeah, I want to scale up, but its still expensive. I do like controlling the work all the way through. We end up doing more, which costs more, but there's no hidden issues. Everything is done right from the start. The workers are fine with it because they get paid more if I add work. ?

Just another quiet Sunday for me. Nothing too wild going on, just letting the day run its course.
Threads like this always end up more entertaining than anything I've got going on, so I figured I'd check in and see what kind of chaos everyone else is dealing with. Seems like the usual mix of kids, food, and people getting triggered over nothing.

Watching the Blacklist & trying to get my post count up to 10 so I can finally respond to a vendor on here.

Deany - November 15, 2025, 9:02 pm

Wtf it's Sunday again?

RangoWorld - November 15, 2025, 11:44 pm

Light speed sunday

blackrose_x0x0 - November 15, 2025, 11:46 pm

Nothin like some ramen noodles at 2 in the morning am I right?

Morning will a bit late for me because of Sunday. Sleepy Sunday I call it.

Beherit - November 23, 2025, 2:27 am

May the Lord bless you all on this fine Sunday.
