Not sure if these are specifically what you guys need in terms of Proxy's but I quickly slapped together this script to automate an existing repo online.

I don't charge bytes because...

A) I didn't write the original (that was AnonCatalyst)

B) All I did was automate the install which saves barely any time

C) I Like This Forum; Good shit for Good people.

....and maybe some assholes that slip through the cracks

My bad My Man. Here yee are I'll check out the AnonCatalyst source code. Haven't heard of it before, but your install is clean & I recognize most of the links from their repo too.
