Thread: Foxtrot Group - Professional Development - Trusted - Secure code!

littlephish420 - June 6, 2024, 9:15 pm

Hello and thank you for reading this thread. This thread is posted on behalf of the Foxtrot Group were I'm currently working as support / advertiser.

Foxtrot Group is a professional group of senior developers and penetration testers that offer their services to the market. If you are looking for someone to create your next project, should it involve software or web development then you should reach out as it will be professionally created.

Any job is possible, e.g landing pages, reverse proxies, software development, website development.

On this forum there are many development services but the developers offering their services have no names nor are they necessarily very good at development. a quick search will show you the time neglect and low quality code that are given to the customer. leading to disputes usually ending in exit scams or only partial refunds and a lot of excuses.

At Foxtrot group, you are safe from any headaches. We accept escrow/middleman for any deal and respect your time and provide you with well written documentation upon project delivery.

When you write to us about your project, the developer(s) assigned to it will work with you to create a project roadmap tailored to your specific needs. Upon delivery, we will provide well-written documentation to help you set up and use your project. Additionally, we offer assistance with the initial installation if needed.

The minimum asking price is $500 for a project.
