Ah, that sounds rough! I hope you can catch up on some rest today. Maybe a bit of coffee or a short nap will help get you through. Take it easy!

Same here, haven't sleeping real good the past days. Right now, I am sleeping and someone called on my phone that's why I am here now on the forum again ?

Oh sorry to hear that brother, how are they? Please give their meds on time, I know it's hard to be awake watching the kids when they are sick.?

I will include you and the kids on my prayer and will ask for fast healing.

Oh if you go to work, you wife will be the only one left for your kids?

Just keep them hydrated and keep their temp on track so you guys know if you need them to bring to the hospital.
