I checked into this, It's an affiliate marketing deal and OP is getting a referral commission. That being said, I wouldn't mind signing up and using the code. If I knew for sure, I was going to get $11. But that seems kind of steep for signing up to an offer wall, especially since I checked the payout threshold and it's five dollars. Or "5 clams" it says lol. I believe the referrer and person being referred do get some kind of compensation, But i've looked around and there's nothing saying that you get $11. If OP can elaborate on the process a bit, or anyone can vouch, that would be cool.

i did it and it seems like bs. op made it sound like you would have enough to make a withdraw with just the initial registration bonus, but of course you have to do this and do that and i ain't fuckin with any of that.

$11 in 8 minutes? more like violently angry in 7 minutes!
