I think I deserve at least 100 bytes because there are tons of instructional materials on this forum that I really want and yet can't access because of exorbitant byte prices. If you can fund me, you fund a person who is willing to put those bytes forward into the most powerful thing humanity can have: knowledge. I will use those bytes to obtain guides and software from this forum that will help me better myself and my community. I can promise that I won't squander those bytes and one day I will pay you back.

Thanks for reading, now gimme those bytes ?
