Thread: Downtime June 23, 2024

Omniscient - June 23, 2024, 8:46 pm

Looks like around 5pm (GMT -8) server went offline. Related to hardware failure which the datacenter has fixed.

We came online within minutes of this post (8:45pm) so we had less than 4 hours of downtime.

All system should be normal but report to me anything NEW that's not right.

Never worry about HF going online. I'd rebuild this place within 2-3 days on a new server with a backup.

Since we no longer have Twitter the best way to get updates if we're offline is actually our TG group.

Thank you.

EDIT: Quote from Datacenter.

Quote:An issue has been detected with one or more RAM modules.

We have replaced the faulty RAM module(s).

The server is booted on disk and is on the login screen. Ping OK and services are up.

I've known for a while we had at least 2 bad RAM modules. This actually might fix some other server errors I get from time to time.

Thanks! I saw it go down before I left to run errands, didn't even hop on TG, but I like Telegram being a mode of delivery for this stuff.

Appreciate you keeping us up and running.

Nightmare - June 23, 2024, 10:03 pm

Thank you for keeping us up, ram can become really a pain in the as..some times!

Truth - June 23, 2024, 10:05 pm

nice, how common have hardware failures been? has it just been a handful of times since HF inception or have you lost count

DashPHP - June 23, 2024, 11:52 pm

Very cool to see action being take immediately. Thanks for bringing HF UP!

Can we get an official post of the telegram group or is there already one I'm missing and can't find?

*Besides XMPP of course, but far more people are active on Telegram.

Thanks for the update, I was wondering what happened.

LarryDz - June 24, 2024, 12:40 pm

A troll got it closed.

Blazin - June 24, 2024, 4:42 pm

4 hours and the DC got it back? That's pretty good could of been a lot worse.

Normally it's been under 6 hours when in the past the power supply had failed (twice now).

Yeah, I wonder what brand of PSUS they are using. Glad they work quick to swap it out though. When was the last date the PSU failed do you know? HF has been online years and pretty much very little down time from my memory. Think I remember longest was a issue with a DB with how massive it is.

Aeowulf - June 24, 2024, 6:54 pm

As bad as it is, I think its always good to have events like these to see how quickly people respond. This was good.

Never had fear.

Skorp - June 25, 2024, 11:06 am

Thanks for always updating the community about site related events ?

Got permanently closed months ago. Apparently I had some violation. But I know what happened. A butthurt psycho member got the account banned as revenge for being HF banned. I think it's pretty fucking funny though because I really don't give a shit. Didn't even bother to appeal. I just opened a new account to troll.

But it's crap like that why I don't believe in using 3rd party social media sites like Discord. Only takes one a-hole convincing support that HF is abusive and going against ToS/AUP and we get shut down. So that's why I didn't even bother to appeal the Twitter closure. If one jerk can get it closed, so can another. No point.

Same thing happened to me. I spent so much time making the discord server all fancy and then it got deleted and my account banned coincidentally when a customer didnt do so well.

And there ya go. HF as an independent website is very well protected. I have redundancy plans for all contingencies. If places like Daily Stormer, Piratebay, and Gab can stay online then so can HF.

probably the name rubbed off wrongly on who ever was reviewing the report as well. But I mean that's nothing new, butthurt members have always been doing extra shit.

What's the craziest shit a ex member has done or tried to threaten you with, I'm sure you got some gnarly stories Imfao lame we need a pastebin now. Better be some undisclosed stuff, since im familiar with most of the drama that was public especially since I've been around to see it happen live most of the time
