

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Selling A High Quality Online Business

Laylo - July 16, 2024, 8:03 pm

Hello HF.

I set up an online business. However, I decided to pursue a local business idea instead.

This includes the brand, the website, the suppliers, strategies, etc. I am also willing to help in any step of the way which includes training, video calls, and whatever you need to start and maintain the business. My timezone is currently CST, so keep this in mind.

Please message me to learn more about the business and see the website.

I am asking for $500. This is a low price and is still negotiable, as the business has not been made public yet.

This is a really great opportunity to start your very first business.

Thanks!

[contract=tid]Start Contract[/contract]

Mooooookie - July 16, 2024, 10:12 pm

(Jul 16, 2024 08:03 PM)Laylo Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) as the business has not been made public yet.

[contract=tid]Start Contract[/contract]

If I'm understanding right, the website hasn't recieved any traffic to-date, and the company hasn't earned any profits to-date, right? You're basically selling the shell of the company, for $500? Do you have prior experience with building and running similar sites in the past? May I ask how you know it will be profitable, if it hasn't been made public yet?

Undead - July 16, 2024, 11:41 pm

Possibly interested in this, could I please get some more information.

Laylo - July 20, 2024, 9:28 am

(Jul 16, 2024 10:12 PM)Mooooookie Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) If I'm understanding right, the website hasn't recieved any traffic to-date, and the company hasn't earned any profits to-date, right? You're basically selling the shell of the company, for $500? Do you have prior experience with building and running similar sites in the past? May I ask how you know it will be profitable, if it hasn't been made public yet?

$500 for a ready-to-ship branded business is extremely low. You need to invest in every company you start, whether it's retail, production, or distribution. I've done the planning, the setup, and pretty much everything for someone to just hop over and take over.

I decided to close the thread anyways so I can earn sales for the next few months. If I decide to sell the business again, it will sold for much more and through other venues

Prawnster - July 20, 2024, 9:32 am

Interested in seeing the site and having a little more info about what you offer product wise and such please :)