Thread: Hackuman Eggs questions?

Dystortion - July 23, 2024, 9:59 am

Apologies for asking both about Hack Game and Hackuman - just trying to get an understanding. If there's any documentation that I have just missed please let me know. As for my question are some eggs rarer than others, not that asking will really help bc Demon will slay them all. He's that fish from nemo that kills all the eggs at the start

TooBurnt - July 23, 2024, 10:00 am

Fun fact. Barracudas don't eat clown fish or their eggs. However a stressed out female clown fish will eat all the eggs. They put some things in Nemo if you pay attention.

LMAOO thank you for clearing that up for me. My whole perspective on life has changed

Edit: just found out otherwise since they're predatory creatures. They can and will eat clownfish

Yeah the whole movie changes if you catch the subtle meanings.

DemonAsylum - July 23, 2024, 11:51 am

No apology necessary for asking about the games man. Totally normal and this is the section to do it as well. Yes, some eggs are rarer to get than others.

Deany - July 23, 2024, 11:51 am

Just let him kill them Kappa

Or save the bytes and let the eggs rot away so the HUM never have to feel the pain and suffering of my touch ??

Thank you ? any ideas which are more rarer. Out of curiosity, I got emerald, ruby? I think and amethyst. I'm guessing they don't make much difference but I'm a curious individual. And my babies shouldn't have to suffer at the wrath of your touch, you smite them down in quick time.

No problem! Emerald and Ruby are the 2 most common and in turn the worst ones. Amethyst is one of those on the rarer side, but not the rarest. The HUM from the rarer ones will be better than those from an emerald or ruby for instance, but not necessarily anything great. They'll also cost more bytes to hatch.

Ah all makes sense, thank you for taking the time. We gotta get some help sections for all of these that aren't so self explanatory..maybe they are and I'm stupid ?

You're welcome and there are some threads out there that provide a lot of info. I've also talked with Omni about the potential for an official HUM faqs page or something along those lines, but that was a while back and it's not like the game is that active or a big deal in regards to HF as a whole so might not be worth the bother.

Absolutely but I'm sure someone with a lot of knowledge of how the platform works and everything that it encompassed could send a draft to him and he'd alter what's needed, saves him the work and then a user would get recognition. But I'm sure something like HUM or HG doesn't get much attention.

Yeah they're just not any bit of a staple, draw, or quite frankly of importance to HF as a whole. Like you said, they don't get much attention either. All of that is to be expected though honestly. Also didn't help that the person who developed the games ended up leaving haha.

Honestly I figured the games are really good, not enough in my eyes. If there was a few more it would be great, things like poker where you can have multiple across the platform playing. But it is, what it is Yeah it would be cool having more bytes focused games. I guess most of those have to be gamblingsque or are most easily that kind of thing though. Poker for instance is a solid idea and that many have tossed around. I think Omni said it's not really worth it for him, but if someone wants to use the API to make it happen and has the time, capabilities, etc than they can.

Yeah I could see why it wouldn't. hopefully something arises in the near future, for now thoyhg. I guess I'll keep losing on sportsbook until the football comes back.

I agree with you, I too found it very difficult learning the ropes. Even if there were threads its the act of searching for it that felt daunting.

A simple FAQ goes a long way.

I'm about 3 months into using HF and I'm still just figuring things out. Getting Leet (thanks to FlyingDuck) opens up a lot more. The upgrades are definitely worth it. As far as FAQs they would definitely help a lot

That being said, we do have a comprehensive Help Docs that might have some answers...

Welcome to HF though, doing well!

HF really does have so many things to it. I've seen so many times and have even experienced some myself, where a person learns about something when they've been around for even years haha. Some stuff is more intentionally not made as clear and then some stuff you just have to look a little harder to figure out about, but it's there nonetheless. Yeah though, lots of little pages, features, etc that many for a long time don't realize about.

Fully agreed. Designed like this is crazy - usually you want every part of a site you design to shine because you've spent valuable hours on it, but this works insanely well

Definitely. I think all the most important and helpful stuff is for the most part represented really well. Then though there are more middle of the pack things and more minor or secretish type things that you won't find unless you look a little harder for them or some that you'd literally have to get told about even haha. It's all great though and works pretty well.

Not to say that it's all super major and or THAT useful stuff haha, but definitely plenty you don't know still I'm sure. Some of it for sure that is beneficial in some way though and or just generally cool, interesting, etc.

You only got 150 moves daily and refresh it after 24hours the exact time you have used them all. You can always check it on your activity tab <https://hackforums.net/hackuman.php?action=activity>

Unfortunately that one can't be earned. It was a custom award all of us went in on together. Idk if Omni would sell more copies of it. Many awards that aren't normally obtainable he'd be open to for the right price. Idk if he'd do it for custom ones though as it kind of takes away from some of the point of getting a custom award in the first place. Are you interested in that award due to the design or due to being into RuneScape? Since that's what it's from ?

No problem at all, I had that expectation right off the bat haha. Thank you for explaining it now I know, I didn't know that was a thing prior/going in on awards I see a few listed now hydra looks cool too!

100% being into Runescape I probably have 30k+ hours in from playing classic to even still playing OSRS off and on a running joke in my friend circle is that nobody ever quits Runescape only takes breaks. There is a little more to it but this game has saved me soooo many times in my life both mentally and financially, paid for basically everything in HS/College always building botting pcs/duel arena/dice/games/recovering/Bug Abuse(shoutout Roy/Toil I miss you).

I was one of the first to have my hands on tip.it DB and let me tell you lol that was one wild summer they were salted MD5 hashes I don't even know if we were able to get through more then 40-50% I should probably go back now that we have new tech might be worth looking into again. Also fun to look back at some of this stuff, especially JimSky888 he had just started and I was his first customer now he's a big player. LMAO or when we were able to infect gold4rs and that was when gp was still $3/4+- at that time. That was basically my day-to-day for god at least 10+ years, also taught me a lot of good life skills how to do business irl who to trust etc I wouldn't change a thing. That was a blast from the past for sure.
