Thread: I Was Attacked By An HF Member IRL

Blockonome - July 29, 2024, 9:04 am

Hello guys,

I have truly found out how sketchy some people from HF can be. I actually live with one. His HF account has been deleted unfortunately, otherwise I would tag him.

It all started when I noticed he used my toilet paper, my soap, my kitchen equipment. He would never buy any new stuff to refresh it, but instead leave me without toilet paper and soap on multiple occasions.

I asked him to top up whatever we need when he finishes it (This never happened)

Also, he does not know how to clean, he has to this day, in more than 1 year, cleaned the apartment 2 times. And he leaves food encrusted into what he calls "Clean kitchen stuff" - Since this is my stuff, that he never paid for, I got annoyed.

Keep in mind, I have just been ignoring it. BUT when he left rotten spilled milk in the fridge for 4 weeks, is when I confronted him.

His response was that he makes mistakes, but I make mistakes as well, so therefor it didn't matter. I asked him what mistakes I have made, and he literally made up a bunch of shit right in front of me. I asked him to prove it, and he told me "I know you have done it, so that is proof enough". xD

Well well well..... This went on for a while, now we are about to move out and we had a disagreement about the deposit.

This was on text (but we are both home) - He then proceeded to barge in my door, grab me and throw me to the floor, before saying he was going to kill me.

I stood up, punched him in the face and told him to fuck off, and so he did. Still wondering if I should call police, but I know they will not do shit.

Name and Shame him ?

I thought your story would be more something whereby he robbed you when you wanted to sell your Rolex for some cash ??

I expect HF members to have the social skills and hygiene of a Redditor... for those who don't know it's none.

Yeah this. I want to believe people aren't morons, but in this case, I'm having a very very difficult time figuring out where the rational thought process is.

For real lol we need a part 2. More details and super curious who this "HF member" is ? If anything it was an interesting and highly interesting read.

Give us a part 2 at least and to further build the story as well as make us want to know who it is more than before. Then in part 3 they can give us a grand finale and at the end just out the person lmao.
