Thread: Loving the Home Life with HF

Russian bear - July 30, 2024, 6:14 pm

Hey HF fam,

I just wanted to share a little something that's been making me really happy lately. I've been spending more time working from home and chatting on HackForums, and honestly, it's been way better than going out. Here's why:

1. Home Comfort:

There's nothing like being in your own space. Whether I'm grinding on a project or just chilling on HF, home is where I'm most comfortable. No need to worry about getting dressed up or dealing with traffic.

2. Getting Stuff Done:

My home setup is just how I like it. Everything I need is right here, and I can focus so much better without distractions. Plus, I can take breaks whenever I want, which is a huge plus.

3. Learning and Growing:

HF is packed with knowledge. From coding tips to business advice, there's always something new to pick up. Being at home gives me the time to dive into all these awesome threads and really learn. Plus, the members here have helped me a lot, sharing their experiences and advice which has been invaluable.

4. Awesome Community:

I've met some incredible people on here. The community vibe on HF is something special. Whenever I need advice or just a good conversation, there's always someone here who gets it.

5. Feeling Good:

Staying home and doing what I love has been great for my mental health. I feel happier and more relaxed compared to when I was always out and about. There's something really satisfying about making progress from my own space.

6. Staying Safe and Healthy:

With everything going on in the world, staying home just feels safer. I can focus on my health and well-being without the stress of external chaos. Plus, I'm making an effort to go to the gym regularly and eat healthy food, which has made a big difference in how I feel overall.

What about you? Do you also enjoy staying home and hanging out on HF? How has it been for you? I'd love to hear your stories and maybe pick up a few new tips from you all.

Cheers,

What do you do from home? Do you work from home or do you do freelance work? What did you do before that required you to get up and go outside to go to work? If you don't mind me asking?

I actually haven't worked before. I've jumped straight into working from home, doing a mix of freelance work and managing my online business. It's been a great experience so far and gives me a lot of flexibility. What about you? Do you work from home or have any experience with it?

No, work a labor job. I am taking exams to hopefully get into my profession and if not will start another business.

I got 3 businesses going right now, All of them are a mix of both online and in person.

working on getting my 4th business which is the profession I am trying to get into. I have a college degree in it.

Glad to hear that what you've been doing with life and in regards to all you explained is what's been working out seemingly best for you. Hopefully that can continue to be the case and you can in turn be all the happier :)
