what is going on? this is the second thread about hacking a schools system..

i wouldnt even attempt it - not only is it highly illegal, they can detect a breach, and if you do get in, they will notice that its only your grades that have changed - then you just wait for the police to show up, take you to court and make you pay a hell of a lot of money for damages...

study hard and do better..

Is this a paid platform? If you can paste the link into pastebin.com and just post the string letters after the / i can take a look at it.
